ELIOT SPALDING

To the Members of the Class:

I take pleasure in presenting a history of the lives and happenings of the members of our class since the publication of our first report. In fact the pages of this report are the first complete records of the class since graduation, with the exception of such notices as may have appeared from time to time in the "Graduates' Magazine."

In compiling this report some liberty has been taken with the English in order to have uniformity in the presentation of facts, and in one or two instances it seemed necessary to cut down somewhat the material sent in. The facts themselves, I hope, have been accurately transcribed. If there are any mistakes, I take this opportunity to apologize in advance and shall be glad to receive notice of errors or omissions.

In arranging the material in the report no distinction has been made between men who received degrees and the temporary members of the Class. All such distinctions appear in the lists at the beginning of the report. The men who have not answered the Secretary's requests for information, as well as those for whom no address is known, have been placed in their regular alphabetical order among the rest. If anybody knows the addresses for any of the lost men the Secretary will be thankful for such information.

Where they could be obtained, short accounts of the lives of the deceased members of the Class have been inserted.

The Treasurer, Mr. William Phillips, has turned over to me the accounts of the Class. I should like to make a special appeal to the delinquents for as early a settlement as possible of their overdue accounts.

Owing to the unusual slowness in answering the appeals for information, it has been found necessary to arrange the material in the body of the report in two lists. Those members whose replies came in too late to go in the first list have been put in the back of the report along with the men who made no reply. I regret that so large a number of men have failed to send in the blanks giving information for this report. The value of the report is thereby much impaired, and I wish to make a special appeal to all of you not to allow slackness and indifference to creep into our Class spirit. The Class should grow stronger in unity as we grow older; and I trust that in the future great promptness and interest will be shown to all requests from the officers of the Class.

Sincerely yours,

ELIOT SPALDING,
Secretary.

RECORD OF THE CLASS

JAMES ANTHONY ABORN

After leaving college I spent two years in the employ of the Washington Trust Company of 280 Broadway, New York. For the last four years I have devoted my time to the study of the pipe organ and singing, with the view of fitting myself for an organist. I leave America during the first week of the coming June for Europe, and expect to be settled in Berlin for two or three winters completing my musical studies. While abroad I shall spend the summers in travel.

CHARLES LAWRENCE ADAMS

In the autumn of 1900 I entered the General Theological Seminary of the Episcopal Church in New York, from which I was graduated in 1903. I was ordained deacon on June 7 of that year by Bishop Vinton, in St. Stephen's Church, Pittsfield, Massachusetts. I spent the summer of 1903 in England and on the Continent. In October I began work as a missionary in the District of Salina, in Kansas, with headquarters at Goodland. I was ordained priest by Bishop Griswold in Christ Cathedral, Salina, Feb. 28, 1904. I was transferred in September, 1904, to Salina, where I taught for one term in St. John's Military School and worked as bishop's chaplain. I was then made a canon of the cathedral. I edited the Diocesan monthly magazine. On Dec. 1, 1905, I removed to Easthampton, Massachusetts, to become rector of St. Philip's Church. I married Adola Greeley, daughter of Maj.-Gen. Adolphus Washington Greeley (U. S. A.) and Henrietta Cruger Hudson (Nesmith) Greeley, April 24, 1906.

CHARLES QUINCY ADAMS

I am cashier of the Bay State Milling Company at Winona, Minnesota, and treasurer of the Bay State Elevator Company in the same place. I was married, Oct. 1, 1903, in Winona, Minnesota, to Edith Simpson Nevins, daughter of Emery Gilbert and Elizabeth Simpson Nevins. We have one daughter, Elizabeth Cochran Adams, born Sept. 19, 1904.

EDWARD LARRABEE ADAMS

After graduation in 1900 I spent the summer in Cambridge, being engaged in teaching English to the Cubans who were with us through the summer. In the fall I returned to Harvard to do graduate work in Romance languages and philology, and I took the degree of A.M. in June, 1901. I again returned to Cambridge the following fall with an assistantship in French and Spanish, and divided my work between teaching and graduate study. In the summer of 1902 I started on a trip of travel and study abroad, and after spending two months in Spain I went to Paris, where I began my studies under Gaston Paris, Antoine Thomas, Moret Fatio, Passy, and others, doing work besides in Paris's seminary class. Before returning home, in the summer of 1903, I spent a month in Italy, and visited also Switzerland, Germany, England, and Scotland. The following September I returned once more to Cambridge, where I continued to give courses in French and Spanish as assistant, and also began work on a thesis on Word-Formation in Provençal under Professor Grandgent for the degree of Ph.D., on which I have been engaged ever since. In September, 1904, I came to the University of Michigan as instructor in Romance languages, and I am now spending my second year there in that position, having given courses in French and Spanish. I expect in the near future, possibly the coming June, to return to Cambridge for examination for the doctor's degree. I am a member of the Modern Language Association of America and the Philological Club of the University of Michigan.

NATHANIEL BROWN ADSIT

Nathaniel Brown Adsit died Aug. 1, 1898, at Buffalo, of fever contracted at Tampa, Florida, while a private in Troup C of the Rough Riders. He was the son of John Olmsted and Maria Louise Brown Adsit, and was born at Hornellsville, New York, on Oct. 20, 1877. He prepared for college at the Nichols School, Buffalo, New York.

GUY HARRY ALBRIGHT

For one year after graduation I taught in the Manual Training High School of Indianapolis, Indiana. For the past five years I have been teaching mathematics in the Polytechnic Preparatory School of Brooklyn, New York.

FREDERICK WILLIAM ALDRED

Frederick William Aldred has not been heard from.

HENRY JAMES ALEXANDER

From July 1 to Dec. 31, 1900, I was with the Massachusetts Highway Commission in Boston. From January until June, 1901, I was with the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Railroad at Corning, Iowa. Since June, 1901, I have been with the New York Rapid Transit Commission in New York City. I am a member of the Harvard Club of New York and associate member of the American Society of Civil Engineers.

NATHANIEL ALLISON

Nathaniel Allison has not been heard from. At last accounts he was in St. Louis practising medicine.

GUSTAVUS ADOLPHUS ANDEREGG

I studied physics and mathematics in the Harvard Graduate School from 1900 to 1902, acting as assistant in physics in Harvard College and instructor in physics at Radcliffe College. I received the degree of A.M. at Harvard University in 1902. I was doing commercial electrical work in Chicago and New York from 1902 to 1904. In 1904 I returned to Harvard as instructor in electrical engineering, which position I held for one year. Since then I have been an associate professor of electrical engineering in the Ohio State University. I am an associate member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers.

CHARLES JOHN ANDERSON

In the years 1901 and 1905 I served with the Bureau of Education, Manila, Philippine Islands, as high school teacher and supervisor of schools. During the same period I travelled at intervals in China and Japan and later, in 1905, in Europe. In the fall of 1905 I entered the Harvard Law School.

LLOYD STERLING ANTISDEL

On July 4, 1900, I sailed for Europe, where I stayed for nine months, visiting England, France, Germany, Switzerland, and Italy. I worked three months of this time for the American Express Company at Paris. On my return I went to work for the American Express Company at Lincoln, Nebraska, this being my first acquaintance with business. After two months I went to Omaha. My health then broke down and I spent a year roughing it, carrying stakes in a railroad survey in Oklahoma for three months, spending the rest of the time on a ranch in Montana. I came back and worked in the foreign exchange department of the American Express Company for six months at Chicago. I resigned and prospected for a business opening in Oklahoma and Indian Territory, but not finding anything to suit, I obtained a position as agent of the American Express Company at Oklahoma City, where I have remained up to date. My experience in express business was very limited and I opened a new office for the company there under very unfavorable conditions as regards train service and local territory. Since I have been there I have devised a new way of handling a branch of our business which is now on trial in half a dozen leading offices, and will undoubtedly be adopted universally, although there has been no change previous to this for thirty years. I have been chosen twice to go to Washington as a Statehood Delegate. We need more educated men in the American Express Company. B. O. Young, a Harvard Law School man, Orville Frantz, and I are, so far as I know, the only Harvard men near Oklahoma City. As my father is vice-president and general manager of the American Express Company, I can place some men in this part of the country, but I would not consider any applicant who is not thoroughly democratic and extremely fond of hard work. If any men filling these requirements are looking for a job you may do both them and me a favor by referring them to me.

WALTER CONRAD ARENSBERG

Walter Conrad Arensberg has not been heard from. At last accounts he was writing for a New York paper.

HERVEY FOSTER ARMINGTON

I am still in the business of manufacturing plaster and metal art goods.

WILLIAM HENRY ARMSTRONG

After leaving Harvard in the fall of 1900 I came to Porto Rico to organize a system of industrial schools under the direction of the Department of Education. The first industrial schoolhouse built in San Juan was burned by the natives, and it was decided to wait until later when the people should be more settled in their ideas before building another. I then went into the high school as assistant principal, where I remained one month, after which I was appointed Superintendent of Schools. I held this position about two years, when I resigned to accept a commission as 2d Lieutenant in the army. In the meantime I had travelled in England, Scotland, France, and Spain. In June, 1904, I was promoted to the rank of 1st Lieutenant, and for three months was in command of the Post of Ponce, Porto Rico. I am now engineer officer of the San Juan District of Porto Rico, Porto Rico Regiment of Infantry, United States Army.

PERCY ARAD ATHERTON

I spent the years 1900 to 1903 in the Harvard Law School, receiving the degree of LL.B. in June, 1903. During the summers of 1901 and 1903 I travelled in England, Scotland, Spain, and Morocco. Since 1903 I have been engaged in the practice of law with Messrs. Morse and Friedman, 53 State Street, Boston.

WILLIAM HENRY ATTWILL

William Henry Attwill has not been heard from.

NATHANIEL FARWELL AYER

I have nothing new to report. I am still assistant treasurer of the Farwell Bleachery and Farwell Cotton Mills.

WILLIAM BURTON AYERS

William Burton Ayers has not been heard from. His address is unknown.

CHARLES FULLERTON BACON

I entered the employ of Brown and Wales of Boston in October, 1900. I left this firm in the fall of the following year, and took a position with the Fairbanks Scale Company. I remained with this concern until the spring of 1904, and since that time I have been connected with The Providence Scale Company of Providence, Rhode Island. On Oct. 31, 1905, I married Louise Wolcott Richards, daughter of Augustus J. and Mary T. Richards.

HENRY BROWN BALDWIN

At present I am employed as stenographer in an office.

WILLIAM GALLIFORD BALE

William Galliford Bale died April 4, 1902, at Penllyn, Pennsylvania. He was the son of the Rev. Albert Galliford and Mary Caroline Pulsifer Bale, and was born at Melrose, Massachusetts, June 6, 1878. He prepared for college at Andover Academy, Massachusetts.

HENRY WINTHROP BALLANTINE

The year after graduation I spent ranching it in Sonora, Mexico. I then entered the Harvard Law School and took my LL.B. in 1904. I began the practice of law in San Francisco, and have become a member of the firm of Hewlett, Bancroft and Ballantine. Both Hewlett and Bancroft were Harvard Law School men. In 1905 I declined a call to an instructorship in the Law Department of Stanford University in order to continue practice, but I have incidentally given courses in the department of jurisprudence of the University of California and the Hastings College of the Law. I am also engaged in some legal writing in the preparation of a text-book. We are making money and expect ere many years to have the greatest firm on the Pacific coast.

SETH HEYWOOD BALLARD

Seth Heywood Ballard died Jan. 3, 1899. He was the son of Howard Livermore and Mary Eliza Heywood Ballard, and was born at Gardner, Massachusetts, Dec. 10, 1878. He prepared for the Scientific School at St. Paul's School, Concord, New Hampshire.

FLOYD GEORGE BALLENTINE

After leaving college I remained in the Graduate School three years, receiving in 1903 the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in Classical Philology. The following year I became an instructor in Latin in Bucknell University and the next year was made assistant professor of Latin in the same institution. In the summer of 1904 I married Grace Agnes Newton, daughter of Alice W. Winters and the late George Alman Newton, of Cambridge. An article written by me appeared in the "Harvard Studies," Volume XV. 1904.

MAJOR WILLIAM BARBER

Major William Barber has not been heard from. At last accounts he was in the advertising business in Boston.

Class of 1900

RALPH TILLINGHAST BARNEFIELD

In the summer of 1900 I travelled in Italy, Germany, Switzerland, France, and England. In the fall of that year I entered the Harvard Law School and continued there for three years, receiving the degree of LL.B. with the class of 1903. After leaving the Law School I entered the law office of Walter B. Vincent in Providence, as a student, on July 1, 1903, continuing office study there that I had begun during the summer of 1902. In October, 1903, I was admitted to the Rhode Island Bar and was employed by Mr. Vincent in legal work in the office and court. This continued until July 1, 1904, when I entered into a partnership for the general practice of the law, under the name and style of Vincent, Boss and Barnefield. This partnership still continues. I am a member of the To Kalon Club of Pawtucket, Rhode Island.

KARL SCHENCK BARNES

Since leaving college I have been with the Boston Elevated Railway Company in various positions, and I am now in charge of their employment department. I am a member of the Oakley Country Club.

WILLIAM LESTER BARNES

I was graduated at the Harvard Medical School in 1904. On March 20, 1906, I married Esther Ritchie Wyman in Boston.

JAMES DELLINGER BARNEY

I spent the summer of 1900 travelling in Europe. In the fall of that year I entered the Harvard Medical School, and was graduated in June, 1904. From March, 1904, to August, 1905, I was surgical house officer at the Massachusetts General Hospital. I opened an office at 502 Beacon Street, Boston, in September, 1905, where I am now practising medicine. I was married, Sept. 2, 1905, in Dublin, New Hampshire, to Margaret Waldo Higginson, daughter of Thomas Wentworth and Mary Thacher Higginson. In January, 1906, I was appointed assistant to the medical department of the Boston Dispensary. I belong to the Union Boat Club and I am a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society and of the American Medical Association.

HENDRICK WARE BARNUM

I am connected with the law firm of Elder and Whitman, Boston.

RICHARD RICE BARRETT

Since I left college I have done some farming, some fire insurance, some loafing, and some travelling. I am a member of the Middlesex Hunt Club of Massachusetts, the Piedmont Hunt Club of Virginia, and the Country Club of Brookline, Massachusetts.

FREDERIC GAFFNEY BARRY

Frederic Gaffney Barry has not been heard from.

PHILLIPS BARRY

I studied at the Harvard Graduate School from 1903 to 1904. In 1904 I was a reporter for the Boston American. I am at present a literary man. I have published the following articles: "θυμφωνια (Luke xv. 22), Bagpipe," "Journal of Biblical Literature, 1904," "The Ballad of Lord Randal" in "The New England Journal of American Folk Lore," some traditional songs in the same journal, as well as "Traditional Ballads" and "The Ballad of the House Carpenter" in Modern Language Notes. I am a member of the American Folk Lore Society and the American Philological Association.

FRED ORRIN BARTLETT

Fred Orrin Bartlett when last heard from was on the staff of the "Boston Herald."

Class of 1900

JOSIAH CALEF BARTLETT

After taking the degree of A.B. in 1900 I entered the Harvard Law School in the following fall. I spent two years and a half there, leaving in the middle of the third year on account of illness. On Aug. 1, 1903, I entered the office of the auditor of expenditures of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy Railroad in Chicago. The following March I was transferred to the freight house of the railroad in Aurora, Illinois. I left after a short time and returned to Chicago to take up the law again. I entered the law office of Matz, Fisher, and Boyden in May, 1904, and I was admitted to the Bar of Illinois at the June examinations. In December, 1904, I left the office of Matz, Fisher, and Boyden, working as private tutor in Latin and mathematics and studying for the degree of LL.B., which I received from the Law School of Northwestern University, Chicago, in June, 1905. In August, 1905, I opened my present law office at 87 Washington Street, Chicago, Illinois.

THOMAS ROBERT BATEMAN

I was graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1903, and I am now practising law in Boston.

FREDERIC GILBERT BAUER

I entered the Harvard Law School in the fall of 1900 and received the degree of LL.B., cum laude, in June, 1903. After graduation I entered the office of Messrs. Hill, Bangs, Barlow and Homans of Boston, leaving there Nov. 1, 1903, to enter into partnership with Josiah Minot Fowler (Dartmouth, 1900; Harvard Law School, 1903), Paul Dudley Dean (Harvard, 1901; Harvard Law School, 1903), and John T. Kenney, under the firm name of Fowler, Dean, Bauer and Kenney. Ever since I have been engaged in the general practice of law as a member of the above firm, with offices at 50 Congress Street, Boston.

REX MITCHELL BAXTER

After graduation I spent the first year in social settlement work at The University Settlement, New York City. Then followed a half year in the mountains of West Virginia, roughing it. The latter half of the same year, however, I was in Cambridge studying in the Graduate School. In the autumn of 1903 I began the Law School course at Harvard and took two years' work. I am now located in Boston, going through the usual preliminaries to build up a practice.

FREDERICK HALL BEALS

According to my early plans, made as a student in the State Normal School, Oneonta, New York, I have continued the profession of teaching. From 1900 to 1902 I taught physics, chemistry, and biology in the Worcester Academy, Worcester, Massachusetts. June 24, 1902, I was married to Frances Isabelle Everett, daughter of Albert and Frances Reid Everett, of Worcester, a graduate of the Worcester State Normal School. In the fall of 1902 my wife took up work in Radcliffe and in the New England Conservatory of Music, while I continued my work in physics at the University and received my A.M. the following June. Wishing to go West, I accepted a position for one year to teach science in the best boys' school in the Southwest, the Harvard (Military) School of Los Angeles, whose principal is Grenville C. Emery, formerly of the Boston Latin School. I left here for a better position in the Los Angeles State Normal School, where I have taught physics and physiology for the last two years. We have one child, Frances Elizabeth Beals, born Oct. 4, 1905. I am a member of the National Geographic Society and of the Academy of Science of Southern California. I have lectured before the latter society, and I have also lectured on wireless telegraphy before the Chauqua at Long Beach, California.

LYNN STALEY BEALS

After graduation from college in 1900 I went immediately into the Harvard Medical School, where I was graduated in 1904, cum laude. While in the Medical School I was secretary and treasurer of Randall Hall Dining Association for one year and auditor of the same for three years. Also for three years I was dormitory proctor in College House 17, and for two years had charge of the ticket taking and gates on Class Day and Senior Spread Night. Six months before graduation I was appointed a medical house officer in the Massachusetts General Hospital, where I served for sixteen months. Upon leaving the hospital I became assistant to Dr. J. H. Potter, 177 Dearborn Street, Buffalo, New York. I remained in this office for nearly a year, and I have just recently established my office at 134 North Norwood Avenue, Buffalo. In January, 1906, I was appointed court physician to the North Buffalo Order of Foresters.

Class of 1900

---

WILLIAM LEE BEARDSSELL

I am at present treasurer of the Aseptic Drinking Cup Company, manufacturers of waterproof paper novelties. I was married, May 18, 1905, in Cambridge, to Edith Frothingham Mandell, daughter of William J. and Almira M. Mandell. We have one son, Paul Mandell Beardsell, born April 8, 1906.

ALFRED LE ROY BECKER

Immediately on graduation I commenced the study of law with the firm of Roberts, Becker, Messer and Groat, 319 Mooney and Brisbane Building, Buffalo, New York, and also entered the Buffalo Law School. In May, 1902, I received the degree of LL.B. from the University of Buffalo, of which the Buffalo Law School is the law department, and was admitted to the Bar of New York at the June term of the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, sitting at Rochester. Since that time I have continued in the practice of law, being employed by the firm of Roberts, Becker, Messer and Groat, of which my father, Tracy C. Becker, is the actual head. I have tried cases in the State and Federal courts and argued appeals in the Appellate Division and Court of Appeals. During the year 1905, and until the present time, I have been chiefly engaged in New York City as special counsel for the Attorney-General of New York State in proceedings relating to the winding up of a corporation, having nominal assets of nearly nine million dollars. This litigation, most varied in its details, has embraced work before several referees and in the trial and appellate courts. The year following my graduation at the Buffalo Law School I became registrar of the school and continued as such until the summer of 1905. During three years past I have been lecturer there on the law of contracts. In giving instruction I have used a combination of the text-book and case-systems with good success. As a hobby I maintain an interest in early colonial history, particularly of New York State. Besides writing certain published miscellany relating to this and kindred subjects, I prepared and presented at the annual meeting of the New York State Bar Association, held in January, 1904, a paper of "Mr. Adrian van der Donck, the First Lawyer in New York." I have in hand the collection of materials for other similar writings.

SHERBURN MERRILL BECKER

A clipping from the "Chicago Daily Tribune" sent to the Secretary tells of Sherburn Merrill Becker's recent election as mayor of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

RUSSELL BOOTH BEDFORD

During the summer following commencement I "rusticated" and in the fall returned to New York to take up my work. I started in as a reporter on the "Commercial Advertiser," now the "New York Globe," on which paper were several other Harvard men, among them "Guy" Scull and Humphry Nichols. After some weeks I secured a position as computer and draftsman with the Ransome Concrete Company of 26 Broadway, and later as draftsman with the New York Glucose Company, acting in that capacity and as checker and inspector while the plant was in course of erection. In March, 1901, I accepted the position as manager of the New York office of the American Blower

---

Company of Detroit, and spent some months in Detroit learning the business. I then returned to New York, where I lived until 1902, acting in the above capacity for the American Blower Company. In April, 1902, we moved to Montclair, New Jersey. In May, 1904, finding my work too confining and my health in consequence not of the best, I turned over the management of the office and took up outside work with the company, acting as heating and ventilating engineer and salesman, which line I am still following. My marriage to Ethel Mason Crocker was noted in the last report. We have two sons, Russell Booth Bedford, Jr., born Dec. 28, 1901, and Eugene Daly Crocker Bedford, born March 26, 1903.

SILAS PALMER BEEBE

For the first three years after leaving Harvard I was a student at Yale, taking the degree of Ph.D. in physiological chemistry. During the last two and one-half years I have been engaged in research work as physiological chemist to the Huntington Fund for Cancer Research at New York. I was married Feb. 8, 1896, to Mary E. Whitney. We have a son, Palmer Lewis Beebe, born at Flushing, New York, July 20, 1905. I am a member of the American Physiological Society, a Fellow of the American Association for the Advancement of Science, and a member of the New York Society of Experimental Medicine and Biology. I have written a number of articles on physiological chemistry.

LEON GAGE BEELEY

After leaving college I entered the Harvard Medical School, from which I was graduated in June, 1904, ranking second in scholarship. In March, 1904, I received a two years' appointment as house officer on the First Surgical Service at the Boston City Hospital. I opened an office at my residence in Lawrence, Massachusetts, March 31, 1906.

BERTRAND FAUGÈRES BELL

I am a director of the Union Fire Insurance Company of Philadelphia and of the Agents' Investment Company of the same city. I hold the office of president of the Country and Suburban Construction Company of New York City as well as of the Bell Engineering and Construction Company of 220 Broadway, New York. I am a consulting, inspecting, and constructing engineer for reinforced concrete. I was married, April 30, 1902, in Chillicothe, Ohio, to Beatrice Stafford Boggs, daughter of Marcus and Mary Higby Boggs. We have one child, Muriel Stuart Fitzhugh Bell, born Feb. 20, 1903, in New York. I am a fellow of the American Geographical Society, a life member of the American Museum of Natural History, a junior member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, and a member of the Metropolitan Museum of Art. I belong to the Harvard, Union, American Yacht, and Apawamis clubs, and I am an honorary life member of the Studley Quoit Club of Halifax, Nova Scotia.

CHARLES HERBERT BELL

I went into the milling business after leaving college in 1900. I have been actively engaged in the same since then. The name of the firm is the Quaker City Flour Mills Company. I am the vice-president of this company, which is located in Philadelphia.

CONRAD BELL

On leaving college I spent four years at the Harvard Medical School in the class of 1904, of which I was a member of the Executive Committee. I was a member of the Boylston Medical Club of the School. One year I served on the first Membership Committee of the Harvard Union from the Medical School. The next year I was a member of the House Committee of the Union. After leaving the Medical School I acted as house surgeon of the Waltham Hospital. At present I am assistant to Dr. Henry D. Chadwick, surgeon, of Waltham, Massachusetts. I am also an instructor in the Waltham Training School for Nurses and one of the trustees of the school. I am medical inspector of schools in Waltham. I was married in Cambridge, Sept. 21, 1905, to Elizabeth P. Dudley, daughter of Laura N. H. and the late Sanford H. Dudley. I am a member of the Waltham Medical Club.

WILLIAM WOOLSEY BELLAMY

William Woolsey Bellamy has not been heard from.

ALFRED ABRAHAM BENESCH

I received the A.M. degree at Harvard in 1901 and the LL.B. degree at Harvard in 1903. I was admitted to the Bar of Ohio, December, 1903, and I was in the office of Benjamin C. Starr, Harvard, 1877, from June, 1900, until in January, 1905, I formed a partnership with S. J. Kornhauser, Harvard, 1901, and engaged in the general practice of law under the firm name Benesch and Kornhauser, at Cleveland, Ohio. I wrote in February, 1904, "The Jew at Harvard," for the "New Era Magazine," and I have published other articles in various periodicals. I was Democratic candidate for alderman in ward 14, Cleveland, in September, 1905. I am secretary of the Educational League, of the Independent Order B'nai B'rith Cleveland Lodge, and of the Immigration Aid Society. I am a member of the Board of Trustees of the Hebrew Relief Association and of the Council of the Educational Alliance.

EDWARD SHERMAN BENNETT

Upon leaving college I went to work for the banking and brokers' firm of Hayden, Stone and Company, and I have continued there ever since. I was married, Nov. 11, 1903, to Hattie Gertrude Paige, daughter of Albert C. and Georgianna W. Paige. We have one daughter, Phoebe Bennett, born March 1, 1906. I belong to the Boston Athletic Association.

FRANKLIN PIERCE BENNETT, JR.

I am editor of the "Wool and Cotton Reporter," the principal textile paper in this country, and special editorial writer for the "United States Investor." I am serving on the Saugus School Committee, having been elected in 1903. In the same year I was elected a member of the Massachusetts House of Representatives and I am serving as clerk in the Committees of Labor and Agriculture and on the Committee of Ways and Means, before which every expenditure of the Commonwealth must be argued. I was married, Nov. 20, 1901, to Irene Willard, daughter of Edmund S. and Olive C. Willard, and we have one child, Olive Catherine Bennett, born in Saugus, July 28, 1902. I am a member of the Massachusetts Volunteer Militia, Second Corps. I belong to the Malden Deliberative Assembly, the Nanepashemet Club of Saugus, and the I. O. O. F. I have read several papers before textile societies, among them the "Evolution of the Slubbing Frame," before the New England Manufacturing Association, and also "Our Production of Fine Cotton."

NICHOLAS BIDDLE

Nicholas Biddle has not been heard from.

JOSEPH SMITH BIGELOW, JR.

I left college in 1898 and went to Puerto Rico, where I spent two years as a sugar planter. Since then I have occupied all my time in travelling, having spent two winters in Europe and Egypt, nearly a year in South America, another winter in Texas, Cuba, and Mexico, all last winter yachting on the Atlantic coast, with many hunting and fishing trips to Canada and Newfoundland to fill in the gaps. I am now living with my family at Cohasset, Massachusetts. I am a member of the Tennis and Racquet Club, the New England Kennel Club, and the Eastern Yacht Club.

WILLIAM DE FORD BIGELOW

I have been in the building contracting business practically ever since I left college, and I am now senior member of the firm of Bigelow and Mabie, Building Contractors, Boston, Massachusetts. I have been abroad once and visited England, France, and Italy, and I have also travelled extensively in this country, in Canada, Newfoundland, and in the South and West. I am now living permanently at Cohasset, Massachusetts, where I have bought a place. I belong to the Brookline Country Club, the Eastern Yacht Club, to two shooting clubs in Virginia, and the Exchange Club of Boston.

CARROLL MEREDITH BILL

Since leaving college I have been in an architect's office, with an architectural publishing house, and for the past four years with Alley and Emery, Interior Decorators. The work consists of the design and execution of anything and everything for the interior of the house. I have won several first prizes in design in open competition. I am a member of the Boston Architectural Club, and I have served on several committees of the same club. I am one of the editors of "The Quill," the club's illustrated publication.

GEORGE WILLIAM BILLINGS

Since graduation in 1900 I have been engaged with my father in the publishing of a weekly newspaper and in the conduct of a job printing department at Milford, Massachusetts. I have been too busy to get married, dabble in literature, learned societies, or the higher education. The offices of profit have gone elsewhere to somebody with a bigger pull, those of honor have been turned over to friends with more leisure, and those of trust, — well, I am trusted enough now without voluntarily assuming anything further in that line. Of course there are the usual number of small local societies, and I am at present secretary of the Republican Town Committee and clerk of the Nipmuck Canoe Club. I am no traveller.

HAROLD BISBEE

I am still occupying the position which I obtained immediately upon leaving college, — that of teacher in the Dorchester High School, Boston. The work I find interesting and enjoyable in the highest degree. The New England Association of Chemistry Teachers was pleased to elect me secretary two years ago. Aside from my school work, this office aids to prevent me from becoming altogether rusty in chemistry, and makes me feel that I am performing a part, if only an infinitesimal one, in the human progress of a subject which I love dearly.

FREDERICK EZEKIEL BISSELL

In the fall of 1900 I became associated with H. B. Glover Company, Manufacturers and Wholesalers of Men's Furnishing Goods, Dubuque, Iowa, as buyer; and am still holding the same position. Although Dubuque is a city of 45,000 and the second city in Iowa, I have run across only five 1900 men here in the last five and one-half years. It is quite evident that Harvard men do not choose "corn" or "hogs" for their life work! Nevertheless I could produce figures to show you that the State of Iowa is certainly It. Our Mr. Wilson, whose name you read in the papers now and then, can prove to you, if I can't, that Iowa is all that is good. We have horses, cows, hogs, hens, by the millions, and, best of all, enough food to feed them, and enough left over to feed the cows, horses, and hens of all my classmates, if they be fortunate enough to have them, who live in the ill-favored East. We are the core! All the wealth of the West filters over and around us. And yet five classmates in five and one-half years is discouraging! A sixth is due if the average is to be maintained. May he come as the shepherd of a flock, leading a stalwart band of 1900 pioneers, come to gather our eggs, to churn our cream, to plough our fields, to fatten our cattle, and disseminate Harvard spirit and 1900 companionship in my immediate neighborhood. But because of this isolation, we Westerners, I believe, enjoy our reunions more than the Boston crowd, to whom college has become an old story. It is an old story with us too, but one which is wrapped in mist and romance very far from our every-day lives. So when we come back this year, do not be surprised if we bathe boisterously in the "Fountain of Youth." My interest in the reunion has absorbed so much of my attention that I find no space remains for me to enumerate the books I have written, the learned societies to which I have been admitted, or the offices of honor and trust which I have held. I just want to add, Mr. Secretary, do some missionary work with 1900. Drive them westward! For the sake of Iowa, I want to increase my average.

PAUL BLACKWELDER

After Commencement in 1900 I went to Chicago and spent six weeks in the Summer School of the University of Chicago. In September I began teaching in the Lyons Township High School at La Grange, a suburb fourteen miles from the city. Here I remained two years, teaching English and history. Resigning in June, 1902, I spent three months touring Great Britain and Ireland. Soon after my return, and while I was enjoying a short visit at Harvard in October, 1902, I found an opening in St. Louis, and went there immediately to take the principalship of a third-class grammar school, the Laclede. At the end of four months I was transferred to the Washington Grammar School of St. Louis, a school of the first class. This I left last November (1905), after three most agreeable years. I am now apparently located for good and all in the St. Louis Public Library, with the title of Assistant Librarian. Perhaps I must add, since reticence is tabooed, that this is the second place in the library. There is little more that I can say. I have written no books and no articles of special merit; I belong to no learned societies, and to none but local clubs, and I have received no degree since my A.B. Of one small hobby perhaps I may properly speak. Following a natural interest in the newer educational doctrines, I took the initial steps and the principal part last spring in working up a Vacation School for St. Louis. This enterprise was modelled after the industrial Summer Schools of such cities as Boston, New York, and Chicago; and since St. Louis had never had anything of the sort before the new Vacation School attracted some attention. There will be two such schools here in 1906. May I say in closing that we have some of the Harvard temper even on this west bank of the Mississippi? We admire as much as ever the well-bred, the self-possessed, and the human among men, and we are working a little on general principles for a square deal all around. Some of us take "The Bulletin" and "The Graduates' Magazine." Personally I find both indispensable.

ROBERT WOODS BLISS

Robert Woods Bliss has not been heard from. At last accounts he was Secretary to the American Embassy, St. Petersburg, Russia.

AYERS BOAL

I am still in the real estate business in Chicago. I was married in Winnetka, Illinois, on Jan. 1, 1906, to Lesley Stewart Johnson, daughter of Lorenzo M. and Helen Stewart Johnson. We took a wedding trip to Italy, Egypt, and the Soudan in January, February, and March of the same year. I am a member of the University Club of Chicago and the Chicago Yacht Club, and secretary and treasurer of the Harvard Club of Chicago.

RICHARD DE BLOIS BOARDMAN

I have lived in Boston ever since leaving college, and have been engaged in the real estate business there. I am unmarried, and belong to the following clubs: Eastern Yacht Club, Manchester Yacht Club, Tennis and Racquet Club, and Essex County Club.

CHARLES BOCK

At present I am engaged in the iron and steel business in Buffalo, New York. Previous to that, after graduation from the Harvard Law School in 1903, I practised law for a few months.

REGINALD FAIRFAX BOLLES

Since leaving college I have been in various different lines of business until two years ago, when I took up illustrating and I intend to make this my profession. I am single up to date, with good prospects of remaining so. I have a membership in the Puritan Club of Boston and the Country Club.

RAYNAL CAWTHORNE BOLLING

I am practising law in New York.

EARL DANFORD BOND

After leaving college I spent a year in railroad work in Minnesota. During the next three years I taught school and worked during the summer months in many places in Wisconsin and Dakota. I entered the Harvard Medical School in 1904.

WALTER HOOD BONELLI

After leaving college I went to work for my father, L. H. Bonelli, as real estate salesman. Continuing in that capacity since, I have now become his general manager. The main office is at 314 John Hancock Building, Boston.

SHELDON RUTHERFORD BORIGHT

After leaving college I went to the Harvard Law School. I was graduated from the Law School in 1902, and admitted to the practice of law in Vermont. Since then I have devoted my time entirely to my law practice. There is little or nothing in the story of my life since leaving college that would be of interest to my classmates.

HORACE KEITH BOUTWELL

Since leaving college I have received the degree of M.D. from the Harvard Medical School. I have served for sixteen months as house physician at the Massachusetts General Hospital, and I am now finishing a service of six months as house physician at the Boston Children's Hospital. I am a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society and the American Medical Association, also of the Æsculapian Club of Boston, and the Boston Athletic Association.

HENRY SMITH BOWERS

I have worked for Goldman, Sachs and Company as bond salesman in New York State, and since Jan. 1, 1906, I have been connected with the work in New York City and the immediate vicinity, working from the New York office. On Oct. 31, 1905, I married, in Brooklyn, Margaret Thomas, daughter of George Cyrus and Margaret Maebelle (Waldo) Thomas.

GEORGE PENDLETON BOWLER

George Pendleton Bowler has not been heard from.

HENRY COOK BOYNTON

Since graduation in 1900 I have always been connected with Harvard University. As noted in the first class report, I was Austin Teaching Fellow in Geology; at the same time, moreover, I was doing a full year's work in the Department of Mining and Metallurgy, receiving the degree of S.M. in 1901. It was during this year that I got a taste of metallurgy, and became especially interested in iron and steel, on account of the very able teaching of Prof. Albert Sauveur; therefore, although I had had several good chances to teach outside the University, I decided to spend the next year, 1901 to 1902, in research work in iron and steel, under the supervision of Professor Sauveur. At the end of this year I decided to continue my research; at the same time I was appointed Austin Teaching Fellow for the year 1902 to 1903, and assisted Professor Sauveur in giving instruction in Metallurgy 2 and 14. The next year I was appointed Instructor in Metallurgy and Metallography, assisting in Metallurgy 2, 9, 14. This position I have held up to the present time. In addition to my teaching, I have always kept at my research work, and in June, 1904, I received from Harvard University the degree of Doctor of Science, the title of my thesis being "An Investigation in the Relation between the Treatment, Structure, and Properties of Steel." The important results obtained from my research work from 1902 to 1904 were published separately as follows: February, 1903, "American Institute of Mining Engineers," Volume XXXIV., Albert Sauveur and H. C. Boynton, "Note on the Influence of the Rate of Cooling on the Structure of Steel"; May, 1904, "Journal of Iron and Steel Institute," "Troostite"; May, 1904, "Iron and Steel Magazine," "Sorbic Steel." Because of the paper on "Troostite," mentioned above, the Iron and Steel Institute of Great Britain voted me on May 11, 1905, a Carnegie Research Scholarship of £100 for the purpose of aiding me in continuing my research work here at the Metallographical Laboratory of Harvard University. At the present time I am still engaged in teaching at Harvard in the course mentioned above, and I am pursuing my research work. In addition to the articles mentioned, I expect soon to publish in "Harper's Magazine" a popular article entitled "The Anatomy of a Steel Rail." I am now a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, the Iron and Steel Institute of Great Britain, and the National Geographic Society. I was married, June 11, 1902, in Plymouth, Massachusetts, to Mary Allison Manter, daughter of the late Pelham Everett and Sarah Elizabeth Manter. We have one daughter, Rosamond, born June 4, 1904.

LAWRENCE BRAINERD, 2d

Lawrence Brainerd, 2d, has not been heard from.

LLOYD TEVIS BRECKINRIDGE

The death of Lloyd Tevis Breckinridge was recorded in last report, but no date has been found. He was the son of John Witherspoon and Louise Tevis Breckinridge, and was born at San Francisco, California, on March 29, 1878. He prepared for college at the Belmont (California) School.

JAMES BREWER

James Brewer has not been heard from. His address is unknown.

BARTLETT BROOKS

I was graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1902 and since then I have been practising law in Bangor, Maine. I am finishing my second year as instructor in contracts in the University of Maine Law School. The work is very interesting to me. With Hugo Clark of this Law School I wrote a little brochure on "The Trusts and Constitution," which has not exhausted its first edition. I was married, June 6, 1904, in Addison, Maine, to Anna L. Nash, daughter of the late Willard G. and Mary J. Nash. We have had one son, Bartlett Brooks, Jr., born March 20, 1906, who died four days after birth. I am a member of "The De Burians," a book-lover's club, and also of the Bangor Chess Club. "A Toast to the Also Rans," published in "Munsey" for January, 1903, is the only verse I have perpetrated.

ABRAM VEDDER BROWER

I left college in June, 1899, at the conclusion of my junior year, and the following fall entered the Lowell Textile School at Lowell, Massachusetts, taking the course in cotton manufacturing. In May, 1900, I returned to Utica, New York, and worked during the summer in the Utica Steam Cotton Mills, to acquire experience, following this up with two months in the Cotton Classing House of the Newburger Cotton Company at Memphis, Tennessee. In November, 1900, I sailed for Naples, Italy, and spent the winter in Egypt, later returning to Italy and moving northward through France, Switzerland, Belgium, Holland, and Norway to the North Cape, thence across to England, and in August, 1901, returned to New York. In September, 1901, I accepted the position of cotton classer for the Utica Steam and the Mohawk Valley Cotton Mills of Utica, New York. At the termination of one year I resigned this position to take the office of secretary and treasurer of the Buckmobile Company of Utica, New York, Manufacturers of Gasoline Automobiles. In August, 1904, the Buckmobile Company was consolidated with the Black Diamond Automobile Company of Utica, and I retained the offices of secretary and treasurer of the consolidated companies. On May 1, 1905, I was elected president of the Black Diamond Automobile Company. I am a member of the Fort Schuyler Club of Utica, New York, the Harvard Club of New York City, and the Automobile Club of America.

CASPAR MIFFLIN BROWN

In the summer following graduation in 1900 I worked temporarily in the Quinsigamond National Bank of Worcester. In the fall of that same year I was operated upon for appendicitis. In November, one month after the operation, I went to work in the office of the American Card Clothing Company, but left them in the following spring of 1901 to go up to Nome, Alaska, with a gold mining company. Operations kept me there all summer, and on the return trip in the fall of the same year I travelled all through Southern California and spent some time on the ranches there. From there I went through the Grand Canyon of the Colorado River in Arizona. Late in the fall of that same year, 1901, I resumed my work with the American Card Clothing Company, only to leave them soon again in the following spring of 1902 to go West to San Francisco. There I entered the employ of the Bowers Rubber Company. After staying there all summer, I returned to the East and as manager for them opened up a branch office in Boston. The next spring, 1903, the Boston branch of this company was transferred to Chicago, Illinois, and I left their employ, returned to Worcester, Massachusetts, and entered the employ of the Graton and Knight Manufacturing Company as a salesman. In the fall of 1903 I was taken ill with typhoid fever, and during the long period of my convalescence I travelled a little. In January of 1904 I went to Jamaica, British West Indies, and spent two and one-half months on the island, seeing the country and enjoying its many attractions, such as alligator shooting and shark fishing. On my return from the island in April I again entered the employ of the Graton and Knight Manufacturing Company. In May of the same year, 1904, I went for them to St. Louis, and had charge of their exhibit at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition. Continuing in their service, the following year, 1905, in May, I went for them in the same capacity as manager, and had charge of their exhibit all summer at the Lewis and Clarke Centennial, in Portland, Oregon. On my return to the East I came to Boston for the Graton, Knight Manufacturing Company, opening in December, 1905, a Boston branch office and storeroom. I am at the present time manager of the Boston Branch of the Graton, Knight Manufacturing Company of Worcester, Massachusetts.

LOUIS BLANCHARD BROWN

I have been in Siberia gold mining ever since graduation, and expect to go back there when the country becomes quieter.

PAUL FERRIE BROWN

Immediately after leaving college in 1901 I went to Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, with the McClintic-Marshall Construction Company, and remained there until December of the same year, when I moved to New York, where I was employed in construction work. In the spring of 1904 I returned to Boston, where I am employed by the Richard D. Kimball Company, Engineers. My marriage was noted in the first report. We have a son, Malcolm Ferrie Brown, born Aug. 10, 1903, at Hackensack, New Jersey.

FRANK MERTON BUCKLAND

For about two years after graduation I was with the town engineer of West Hartford, Connecticut. Since then I have been assistant postmaster at the West Hartford office.

JOHN HENRY BUFFORD

After four years in the Harvard Medical School I received my degree of M.D. in 1902. Since then I have been in the syphilis departments of the Massachusetts General Hospital, the Boston City Hospital, and the Boston Dispensary. I am a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society.

GEORGE HERBERT BUNTON

I obtained a position as draftsman with the Planters' Compress Company, East Boston, Massachusetts, in July, 1900. I remained with them until March, 1901, when I accepted a position with the Crest Manufacturing Company of Cambridge, manufacturers of automobiles and accessories. I was employed with them as draftsman and in the manufacture of spark coils for gasoline motors. I left this position in December of the same year to go into the employ of the Boston Elevated Railway Company as machinist at the Charlestown Power Station. I was transferred to the Central power station as engineer and later as electrician. In March, 1903, I entered the employ of the George Close Company, Manufacturing Confectioners, in Cambridge, where I am still employed. I was married in Cambridge, April 5, 1905, to Bertha M. Close, daughter of George C. and the late Sarah Woodard Close.

WILLIAM ARMSTEAD MOALE BURDEN

I was married, April 12, 1904, to Florence V. Twombly. We had a daughter born Feb. 4, 1905, who did not live. I am a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

LEO LE GAY BURLEY

My life since 1900 presents few features of interest to my classmates. I have taught school in Richmond, Virginia, studied in the Harvard Graduate School, acted as assistant in history at Harvard, and seen a little of France and Germany. I am at present teaching at the Pupil Teachers' Centre, Norwich, England. I have contributed short articles to the "Boston Transcript" and the "Independent."

FREEMAN FOSTER BURR

Freeman Foster Burr has not been heard from. His address is unknown.

FREDERIC KING BUTTERS

Since 1901 I have been instructor in botany and pharmacognosy in the College of Pharmacy of the University of Minnesota, and the past two summers I have given instruction at the Minnesota Sea-side Station on Vancouver Island. Since 1904 I have been a member of the Minnesota Academy of Science.

ERNEST GATES BUTTRICK

For some time I have been studying the growth of American park systems and the movement for civic improvement throughout the United States and the literature of these movements. I have visited Colorado, California, and Yellowstone National Park. I am a member of the American Civic Association of Philadelphia, of the Appalachian Mountain Club of Boston, and I am interested in the work of both societies.

JOHN HIGGINSON CABOT, 2d

After graduation I went to Europe, spending one year in Paris and one in Berlin studying history. In 1902 I returned to Cambridge and for a year was assistant in History 1, also taking the A.M. degree. In June, 1904, I received my Ph.D. degree in history. In the meantime I had edited a volume on the history of Italy from the Roman Empire to the present day, one in a series called "The History of the Nations," Mr. H. C. Lodge being the editor-in-chief. Since receiving my Ph.D. degree I have been teaching history and French at Wellesley College, with the rank of instructor. I have visited the following foreign countries since 1900: England, Ireland, Scotland, France, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Italy, Switzerland, Canada, Bermuda, Belgium, Holland.

GEORGE PETER CAMPBELL

When last heard from was teaching physics and coaching athletics at the Agricultural College, Utah.

JAMES CHASE CAMPBELL

James Chase Campbell has not been heard from.

DUNBAR FERDINAND CARPENTER

I returned in the autumn of 1900 to Cambridge, entering the Harvard Law School, from which I was graduated in June, 1903. In September of that year I entered the law office of Lunt, Brooks and Willcox at Colorado Springs, my home. I still continue in this office. I was admitted to the Colorado Bar in January, 1904. The only public office I have held is that of Police Magistrate of Colorado Springs, when I took the place of the regular magistrate while he was on a month's vacation. I am a member of the El Paso and Cheyenne Mountain County clubs, and have been for two years secretary and treasurer of the Rocky Mountain Harvard Club, declining a re-election for the coming year.

KRICKEL KEMER CARRICK

After leaving college I entered the New York Law School, pursuing the regular two years' course. I was graduated in June, 1902, from the same institution, receiving the degree of LL.B., cum laude. I was admitted to the New York Bar in July, 1902. I removed to the State of Washington and entered the service of the Everett Improvement Company. In September of the same year I was admitted to the Bar in the State of Washington, but I am not at present engaged in the practice of law. My present position with the Everett Improvement Company and sub-companies is that of chief clerk. I was married in Chicago, Illinois, Sept. 14, 1903, to Julia Florence Shelley, daughter of James Orton and Carrie Louise Shelley. Our first and only child, Jane Elizabeth Carrick, was born in Everett, March 17, 1905.

EDWARD CLARK CARTER

In making out this return in Ned's absence, his family feel that the following statement from "The Harvard Mission" is a better answer than anything we can write:

A FEW FACTS ABOUT E. C. CARTER, '00, AND HIS WORK.

"Ned" Carter, as he was called by those who knew him, went to India in 1902. In college he had been a popular man and a good lacrosse player, a member of the Harvard team which won the Inter-University League championship in 1901. He was general secretary of the Christian Association during the years 1900, 1901, and 1902.

Carter went out to be travelling secretary among the college Christian Associations in the north of India, and the Harvard Christian Association made itself responsible for the payment of his salary. He had also an important part in the starting of Y. M. C. A. work among European employees of the Indian railways and stopped in England on his way to confer with railway and government officials. His large ability and vigorous work caused his promotion in 1904 to the much larger work of general secretary of the whole Y. M. C. A. enterprise in India. Carter returned to America in May, 1904, to attend the International Convention of the Association in Buffalo. After a summer spent in raising money and men to enlarge the Indian work, he started for India again in October. A large farewell meeting was held in Phillips Brooks House, at which Milton Lightner, O. G. Frantz, Bishop Lawrence, and others spoke.

Since his return to India, Carter has charge of association work all over the empire. Much of his time is spent in travelling; his mileage last year was nearly 32,000 miles. He has been instrumental in securing many new buildings, especially in Calcutta, Rangoon, and Colombo. Under his administration a number of new foreign secretaries and a large force of native workers have been set at work, including a national railroad secretary. There are now in India 79 general associations with about 6000 members and 35 student associations with over 2200 members. There are 18 association buildings, including men's, boys', and railroad buildings, and hostels for students.

The influence of Carter's work may be found all over India, in very small associations in the villages, and in great associations like that in Madras, which has 600 members, a boarding house with 60 residents, a gymnasium, athletic field, library, reading room, educational work, and Bible study clubs and classes. The soldiers' department serves cheap suppers for from 80 to 200 "Tommyes" every night. Carter says of Rangoon, the great oil, rice, and teak seaport of Burma: "In few cities anywhere have I seen the temptations to vice more open and flagrant. The place and work of the Young Men's Christian Association in such a city is easily determined. The new European Building (to be one of the finest in Asia) will make the present work even more potent in saving European and American young men from the gambling table, the curse of whisky, and the leprosy of the harlot. The rapidly growing Burmese department is stretching a cordial and strong hand to the village lads of the Province, who come to Rangoon to 'get on,' and who instead so often 'go down.' So thoroughly has the work of the Rangoon Association commended itself to leaders in commerce and government, that Sir Hugh Barnes, the governor of the province, stated at the annual meeting of the Association that our work had his warmest sympathy, and that we were to count on his help in every possible way."

Mr. John R. Mott, chairman of the International Committee of Y. M. C. A.'s, says, "Carter is such a modest man that it is hard to get him to tell of these things, but my correspondence with many people has made it plain that he is one of the most competent men we have in the foreign field."

April, 1906.

EARNEST CARY

I received the degree of Ph.D. in classical philology at Harvard in 1903. As the holder of a Parker Fellowship, I spent the following year in Germany, Italy, and Greece. During the last two years I have been private assistant to Prof. John Williams White.

WILLIAM RICHARD CASTLE, JR.

After graduation I went to Honolulu, where I entered the real estate business. In the spring of 1902 I returned to Boston, where, on June 3, I was married to Margaret Farlow, daughter of John Woodford and Annie Harden Farlow. Until the following spring we lived in Honolulu, when we moved to Boston. After teaching in the Summer School, I began work in October, 1903, as an assistant in English in Harvard. My daughter, Rosamond Castle, was born March 24, 1904. After two years as an assistant I was appointed an instructor in English, a position which I am holding now. I have since graduation been twice to Europe, travelling in France, Germany, Italy, and Russia. I am a member of the Colonial Club in Cambridge, of the Brookline Country Club, and of the Harvard Club of New York.

WILLIAM MERRIAM CHADBOURNE

After my graduation from college I spent three years in the Harvard Law School, where I received the degree of LL.B. in 1903. During the period from July, 1903, to October, 1904, I made a journey around the world, in the course of which I visited, among other countries, Russia, Turkestan, Persia, Bulgaria, Servia, Egypt, Palestine, India, Burma, Java, Siam, China, the Philippines, Manchuria, and Japan. Since November, 1904, I have lived in New York City and have been in the office of Hornblower, Byrne, Miller, and Potter, attorneys at law. I have taken a considerable interest in politics, working during the campaign of 1904 for the Republicans and during the campaign of 1905 for the Republican ticket and for District Attorney Jerome. The summer of 1905 I spent on a ranch in New Mexico. I am a member of the Harvard Club and of the Republican Club of New York.

ALBERT MINOT CHANDLER

After completing my college course I entered the Harvard Law School, where I was graduated in June, 1903. In the summer of that year I took a trip abroad, visiting the principal countries of Europe. In the fall I went into the law office of William A. Munroe, and was with him until his death in the summer of 1905. I then formed a partnership with Huntington Saville (Harvard, 1893; Law School, 1896), who had been with Mr. Munroe about nine years. In addition to a general practice, we have the management of several large trust estates. Among the organizations to which I belong are the Colonial and Economy clubs of Cambridge and the First Corps Cadets of Boston.

BUCKINGHAM CHANDLER

Having obtained leave of absence for my senior year, I started in September, 1899, in the sales department of the real estate firm of Chandler and Company, 84 Washington Street, Chicago. On Jan. 1, 1901, I became manager of the firm which conducted the sales and renting business of the Chandler Mortgage Company, and bought out the business on Jan. 1, 1902. On May 1, 1902, I purchased the good will of the business known as "The Chandler Mortgage Company," which went out of business, and formed a co-partnership with Henry A. Knott, who had been conducting a general real estate and mortgage loan business in Chicago for over fifteen years. The name of the new firm became Knott, Chandler and Company, with offices at 110 Dearborn Street, in which I am still junior partner. Our firm conducts a general real estate business, consisting of a large sales department, a renting department, an extensive loan department, insurance department, and law department. My time has been spent practically continuously in Chicago since leaving college, except for occasional trips East to call upon clients, and educational trips to the Pacific coast and Gulf of Mexico. I am a member of the University Club of Chicago, of the Harvard Club of Chicago, of the Chicago Real Estate Board, and of the Chicago Board of Underwriters.

LANGDON W. CHANDLER

To continue the narrative, I have looked after my business as a book paper salesman without honors or degrees or, in fact, much of anything else.

HERBERT MANN CHASE

I was graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1902. I am serving on the Cambridge Common Council, my term being from 1905 to 1907, and I am now a lawyer, practising at 84 State Street, Boston. I was married, June 30, 1902, in Cambridge, to Florence H. Hilton. We have a son, born in Cambridge April 26, 1904, George Hilton Chase. I am a member of the Economy Club, Cambridge, Economic Club, Boston, the Middlesex Club, Massachusetts Republican Club, and Mizpah Lodge, Cambridge, A. F. and A. M.

PHILIP PUTNAM CHASE

After being graduated from college I attended the Harvard Law School, taking my degree in June, 1903. After several months' travel in Europe I settled in Milton and began the practice of law in Boston. I was married, June 27, 1903, in Milton, to Anna Cornelia Wigglesworth, daughter of George and Mary C. D. Wigglesworth. We have one son, Philip W. Chase, born in Milton, May 15, 1904.

FRANK NEWHALL CHESSMAN

In September, 1900, I entered the College of Physicians and Surgeons in New York, and was graduated from that institution with the degree of M.D. June, 1904. I received a pathological and surgical appointment at Saint Luke's Hospital, New York, from Jan. 1, 1905, to July 1, 1907. I am a member of the Harvard Club of New York City.

JOHN ALLAN CHILD

John Allan Child has not been heard from. When last heard from he was at Lakewood, New Jersey.

FREDERICK ROBBINS CHILDS

Frederick Robbins Childs has not been heard from.

MARLBOROUGH CHURCHILL

During the greater part of my first year after graduation I was in Cambridge, holding a minor position in the English department. From earliest boyhood I had determined upon the army as the profession to which I was called by temperament. In June, 1901, I took my examinations for an appointment to the army from civil life, and in July was commissioned a 2d Lieutenant in the Artillery Corps. I accepted the commission in September, and in October joined my first company, the 113th Company, Coast Artillery, at Fort McHenry, Maryland. In December of that year I was appointed Adjutant of the Artillery District of Baltimore, and remained on that duty until December, 1904. In September, 1903, the headquarters of the district were changed to Fort Howard, Maryland, further down the Patapsco River. In October, 1903, I took a month's leave, returned to my home, Andover, Massachusetts, and on the 7th of that month was married to Mary Smith, daughter of Peter D. and Abby Chandler Smith. In November I returned to Fort Howard. My daughter, Mary Churchill, was born at Fort Howard on Nov. 12, 1904. In December, 1904, I was transferred from the coast artillery to the 6th Battery, Field Artillery, and joined my battery at Fort Riley, Kansas, on Jan. 9, 1905. The School of Application for Cavalry and Field Artillery is situated at Fort Riley, and, in addition to interesting service with my battery, I had the privilege of taking the first year's work in this school — the most practical of all military schools. On Nov. 13, 1905, my battery left Fort Riley for Fort Sam Houston, Texas. This involved a march of eight hundred and seventy-six miles, the longest continuous march ever made by a battery of artillery. It was most interesting and instructive. We arrived at Fort Sam Houston on Jan. 12, 1906. I am happy and contented in my work, and find that the principles we learn at Harvard are of daily help to a man, even though he may find himself in an environment apparently incongruous.

JAMES HENRY CLAGG

From 1897 to 1900 I was principal of the Grammar School at Provincetown, Massachusetts. For the next five years I was principal of the Florence Grammar School, Northampton, Massachusetts, and I am now principal of the Hosmer Grammar School at Watertown, Massachusetts. My marriage was noted in the last report. We have now two children, Clara Elizabeth Clagg, born in Florence, Massachusetts, April 16, 1902, and Charles Floyd Clagg, born in the same town, Oct. 30, 1904. I am a member of the Masonic Lodge, A. F. and A. M.

GEORGE OLIVER CLARK

After leaving college I went to the Harvard Medical School, from which I was graduated in 1903. From June, 1903, to December, 1904, I served as surgical house officer in the Massachusetts General Hospital. Since then I have been practising at 84 Commonwealth Avenue, Boston. I am assistant to Dr. J. W. Elliot, having been graduate assistant to the Surgical Out-patient Department of the Massachusetts General Hospital from June to October, 1905. Since 1905 I have been district physician in the Boston Dispensary. I am a member of the Boylston Medical Society, the Æsculapian Club, the Massachusetts Medical Society, the American Medical Association, and the Union Boat Club.

LYMAN KENNETH CLARK

When I left college in June, 1900, I spent three months loafing and attempting to find out what I wanted to do. In the fall of that year I began to teach as a master in Dummer Academy. This position I held for two uneventful years, and then I entered the Law School. During the three years of my course there I was an assistant in one of the courses in the college. In 1901 I received the degree of A.M. for extra undergraduate work. Last fall I began to practise law in Boston, and I am now, to the best of my knowledge and belief, settled here for good.

GEORGE EDWARDS CLEMENT

After leaving college I took the course in forestry at the Yale Forest School, receiving the degree of M.F. in 1902. Since graduating from the Yale Forest School I have been employed as forest assistant in the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. entirely to working with the Medical School men. Toward the end of this year I became interested in one of the two fraternities at the Dental School —  $\Delta\Sigma\Delta$  — and later in the course, having shown considerable interest in its work, was entrusted with the office of Grand Master of the local chapter. After gaining my D.M.D. I passed the state examinations in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, and New York. I chose the last state as a field for practising, and I am now fairly started on a “long reach” for success.

HARRY JUSTIN COLBURN

I have been connected with Wesleyan Academy, Wilbraham, Massachusetts, ever since I left college. For two years I taught Latin and history, and for two years I have been general superintendent of the whole school. My marriage was noted in the first report.

JOHN FELT COLE

I was an instructor in astronomy at Harvard from 1901 to 1905. In February, 1905, I made a trip to Bermuda and another in March and April of the same year, for the purpose of making an isogonic chart of the islands. I visited the islands of the West Indies in February and March, 1906. I am a member of the M. P. Club.

WALTER LEO COLLINS

Walter Hampden Dougherty has not been heard from.

FREDERICK THOMPSON DOW

I am at present a founder of cast iron.

FRANCIS JOSEPH DOWD

Immediately after graduation I made tracks for New York City, there to seek my life-work in some business or other. After many ups and downs, I finally found an opening in the calling I most desired, entering the employ of D. Appleton and Company. Later, securing a more desirable position, I went with Harper and Brothers in 1902, where I am at the present time, looking after the manufacturing and making as many and as good books as I know how. I have not joined any clubs or learned societies, and as for marriage, I have never seriously considered the question. My zone of travel has been limited to my own country, about which I have travelled a good bit; but I made one trip of several weeks to the Maritime Province.

JEREMIAH FRANCIS DOWNEY

Not finishing my course in college I enlisted in 1898 in the First Regiment, United States Volunteer Engineers, holding the rank therein as corporal and as sergeant. Afterwards I was employed as a mechanical draftsman, and I am still in this line of work. I have served in the city government of Cambridge as a common councilman in 1903 and 1904, and have also served as a member of the House of Representatives in 1905 and 1906.

ANDREW FRANCIS DOWNING

I was graduated at the Harvard Medical School in 1904. I began an appointment at the Boston City Hospital in July, 1904, as house officer on Second Medical Service. I was appointed house physician, Second Medical Service, at the Boston City Hospital from March 5, 1906, to July 16, 1906. I shall probably go into practice in some Boston suburb. I am still single and unengaged. Before this report is out I shall have become a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society.

DURANT FORD DRAKE

On account of ill health, Durant Drake has not been able to answer for himself. His mother writes that the first year after leaving college he spent in college settlement work in New York City. The next two years he spent travelling and studying in the Harvard Graduate School. Owing to illness he has been unable to complete the work for his degree of Ph.D. in philosophy. He is at present trying to regain his health.

CHARLES DANA DRAPER

Since graduation I have been engaged in the banking business in the city of New York, and with the exception of a short vacation each year, I have not been away from New York for any length of time.

ARTHUR DRINKWATER

The three years following graduation from college I spent at the Harvard Law School. After taking my law degree I entered the office of Benner and Foster in Boston, where I remained for something more than a year in general practice of the law. On leaving this firm I took up my present employment with Warren Brothers Company, acting as assistant to the general counsel for the company. The principal part of the business of the corporation is laying street pavements. I hold no office of profit, honor, or trust. My only take a position as instructor at Milton Academy. A year's teaching proved sufficient, and I went from there to Washington as private secretary to the late Senator Hoar, with whom I remained until his death. In the summer of 1904 I passed the Massachusetts Bar Examinations, and in January, 1905, went into the office of Carver and Blodgett in Boston.

LUCIEN EATON

After graduation in 1900 I spent one year in the Mining School and one in the Graduate School, during the latter year being assistant in mining. In July, 1902, I took a position as assistant engineer for the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Company at Ishpeming, Michigan, and have been in the employ of the same company ever since. On July 1, 1903, I was appointed mining engineer of the Ashland Mine at Ironwood, Michigan, a position which I held till Dec. 1, 1904, except during the months of April and May, 1904, which I spent travelling in the western part of the United States. On Dec. 1, 1904, I returned to Ishpeming, Michigan, as assistant chief engineer for the company, and on Feb. 1, 1906, was appointed superintendent of the Iron Belt and Shores Mines at Iron Belt, Wisconsin, a position which I now hold. Since 1900 I have received the degree of B.S. and M.S. in mining, both from Harvard University. I am a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers, Ironwood Club, and Wawonowin Golf Club.

THEODORE HILDRETH EATON

I have spent four healthful, moderately interesting, and rather unprofitable years as a second-rate farmer on a run-down New England farm. My marriage was noted in the last report.

ever since he left college to put six years of his life upon two pages of paper? Only Frank Simonds, who can sum up the universe and Harvard College in an epigram, could do that! However, when I come to think of it, there's not so much to say. I have spent all my time since 1900 on either the "Boston Journal" or the "New York Tribune," and have sunk as low as I can — to the dramatic department of the latter sheet. There is nothing lower than the dramatic department of a newspaper, unless it is the job of writing editorials. The best I can hope to make of my life now is an example to all undergraduates with the newspaper bee in their bonnets. If I can drive any of them into some really useful and remunerative field of activity, I shall not have lived in vain. The chief trouble with newspaper work is that you learn all about graft without getting any. This is vexatious and unpatriotic. The true American to-day knows nothing about graft and owns automobiles! I have since graduation dazzled a few magazine editors, those of "Ainslee's," "Pearson's," "The Reader," "The Atlantic Monthly," "The American Illustrated," "The Metropolitan," and one or two others, so that they have printed verses, stories, and essays of mine, but I have not yet written the "Great American Drama," nor got myself a wife. I hope to do both before another six years have passed, though I'm a bit skeptical about the latter.

FRANK ALBERT EDMANDS

Since the last report two of my children have died, Albert Cecil Edmands, May 27, 1903, at Nashville, Tennessee, and Joselyn Edmands, May 30, 1903, at Cleveland, Ohio. We have a daughter, Ann Edmands, born Jan. 14, 1905.

WILLIAM EDMUNDS

After leaving college I went to work with Adams and Company, bankers, where I am at the present time. My position there is that of a bond salesman, and I travel in the various New England States the greater part of the time.

I have not married as yet, nor has anything equally as startling happened since I left college.

NATHAN ADAMS EGBERT

Immediately after leaving college I sailed, together with Lewis B. Brown and Willis S. McCormick of our class, for Russia, having as our destination the gold mines of the northern Altai in Central Siberia. There I remained until December, 1901, hunting, prospecting, and travelling in European Russia and Siberia. In December I returned home and went back to Siberia in February, 1902, taking with me a cargo of machinery for the claim, remaining there until December, 1903, when I came back to the United States. And after futilely endeavoring to persuade the powers that be in Washington that I would make a most able diplomat, made two trips out to Puget Sound to look over the timber business and the general opportunities on the Pacific coast and the Rocky Mountain country. I am at present in the second year class in the Columbia Law School, and expect to begin the practice of law in New York next year, unless I go West, as I may, if the present conditions in the mining districts of Nevada continue. Since leaving college I have visited England, France, Germany, Holland, Denmark, Switzerland, Poland, Russia, and Turkey, and every state in the Union north of the Mason and Dixon line. No one, to my knowledge, has conferred any honorary degrees upon me, and my only club is the Harvard Club of New York.

EDWARD ELIAS

Since I left Harvard I have taken graduate work in the University of Chicago, and I am at present teaching German in Purdue University, La Fayette, Indiana, where I have begun my second year's work.

HARRY STANTON ELLIOT

Harry Stanton Elliot has not been heard from. At last accounts he was on the stage. He was married, Dec. 7, 1905, to Clara Blandick Dickey, in New York City.

ROBERT HALE ELLIS

I entered the Harvard Medical School in 1898 and was graduated in 1902. For two years I was house officer of the Boston City Hospital, and from January to July of 1905 I was house physician in the Boston Lying-in Hospital. I started practice in Portland, Oregon, in January, 1906. I am a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the Boston City Hospital Alumni Association, the Harvard Medical Society, the University Club of Portland, and the Mult-nomah Amateur Athletic Club of Portland.

WALTER FRED ELLIS

From 1900 to 1901 I was a teacher in Boston. Since 1901 I have held several executive positions, — as manager of a publishing house from 1901 to 1902, as manager for the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company from 1902 to 1905, and since 1905 as manager for the Columbian National Life Insurance Company. I was married on Nov. 17, 1905, in New York, to Florence Emma Hirt, daughter of Louis Joseph and Alice Flamand Hirt. I am a member of the New England Historic Genealogical Society, of the Mangus Club of Wellesley Hills, of the Handel and Haydn Society of Boston, the Apollo Club of Buffalo, New York, and of the Delta Lodge, F. and A. ### FLOYD FIELD

During the year 1901 and 1902 I attended the Graduate School of Harvard, receiving the degree of A.M. in June, 1902. From 1902 to 1903 I taught mathematics at the State College of Pennsylvania. In the summer of 1903 my wife and I took a trip to our old home in Salem, Oregon, returning east in the fall to Evanston, Illinois, where I had accepted a position in Northwestern Academy as head of the Mathematical Department. This position I am still holding. The summer of 1905 I also spent in Oregon. During the years 1904 to 1905 and 1905 to 1906 I attended regular weekly seminars in mathematics at the Chicago University, also taking a regular course during the autumn quarter of 1905. The notice of my marriage to Lillian Roblin appeared in the first report. We have two sons, Harold Burt Field, born April 14, 1902, in Cambridge, and Gilbert Roblin Field, born July 30, 1904, in Evanston.

HERBERT HUXLEY FISKE

EDGAR FRIEDLANDER

I am in business in Cincinnati, Ohio.

ARTHUR SUMNER FRIEND

After completing the academic course I went to the Harvard Law School and was graduated in June, 1902. Then I came immediately to Milwaukee and began the practice of the law with my brother, Charles Friend, Harvard, 1888, Law School, 1892. I remained with him until March of the present year, when I started in my own offices. No other personal happenings dating from my graduation are of particular interest. So far I have been equally successful in avoiding both politics and matrimony.

ARTHUR NEGUS FULLER

Arthur Negus Fuller has not been heard from.

BENJAMIN APTHORP GOULD FULLER

The two years immediately following my graduation were spent partly at Harvard, partly in Europe. I took the degree of A.M. at Harvard in 1902. The next two years I spent at Christ Church, Oxford, studying philosophy. I returned to Harvard in the autumn of 1904 to enter the Graduate School and to take the post of assistant in the department of philosophy. I received the degree of B.S. at Oxford in June, 1905. I am at present a student in the Graduate School, a

GERALD FFENNELL FURLONG

I came back to college, September, 1900, and remained till mid-year examinations in 1901. Then I went into the advertising business, soliciting for various magazines. In June, 1901, I entered business with the Library Bureau and remained with them at the Boston office until November, 1901, when I was sent to their London office. I remained in England for thirty months, until March 14, 1904. While with the London branch of the firm I travelled in Ireland, seeing Belfast and Dublin, and in England, such neighboring cities as Ipswich and Bedford. On May 14, 1904, I sailed for Boston, and on arriving there I was transferred to Canada to take charge of the Montreal office of the Library Bureau of Canada, 296 St. James Street. My position now is manager for Quebec and the Maritime Provinces. I am a member of the Engineers Club.

HOYT STODDARD GALE

The first winter after graduation I went to work for the wholesale shoe firm of A. W. Tedcastle and Company, Boston, in company with H. G. Robinson of our Class. This sort of work was not, however, congenial to me, and the following spring, 1901, an opportunity to join a field party of the United States Geological Survey was offered and accepted. The next college year, 1901-1902, was devoted to a continuation of work in geology in the Lawrence Scientific School. The three summer seasons following were spent in geological survey work in the southern Appalachian Mountains, mainly in western North Carolina, and the winter seasons were occupied in the office of the Survey at Washington. The results of this work are published in the "Atlas Folios" of the United States Geological Survey covering this district. The summer season of 1905 was spent in conducting a recon-

The preliminary reports of this investigation are published in the "Economic Bulletin" of the United States Geological Survey for 1905. June 18, 1902, I married Almira Miller, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Saunders of Cambridge, in Appleton Chapel, Cambridge, Massachusetts. Aug. 1, 1904, a son was born at Boston, who was christened Hoyt Rodney Gale. I am a member of the American Association for the Advancement of Science and of the Geological Society of Washington. I am assistant geologist of the United States Geological Survey.

WESLEY JOHNSON GARDNER

With the exception of fifteen months at the Yale Forest School, where I obtained the degree of M.F. in 1903, all of my time since graduation has been spent in the employ of the Forest Service of the United States Department of Agriculture. My work in the Forest Service has been directed chiefly along the line of reforestation, and the field of my work has been the national forest reserves in California, Idaho, Montana, Colorado, and Oklahoma. I am a member of the Society of American Foresters.

CHARLES GARLAND

Charles Garland died May 15, 1904, at Concord, Massachusetts. He was the son of James Sanborn and Katherine Howard Garland, and was born at St. Louis, Missouri, Nov. 29, 1879. He prepared for college at the Concord School.

CHARLES WILBUR GOODRICH

In September following graduation I began teaching as submaster in the Foster Evening School of Somerville. In November I went to Holyoke to accept a position as teacher of science in the High School of that city. Physiography was the subject in which I was most interested although I also taught chemistry and physiology. I remained in Holyoke until June, 1904, and while there I was associated with the work of the Young Men's Christian Association. While in Holyoke I delivered a few lectures on physiography. These were designed to awaken the general interest of the community in the subject. I also contributed an article in school science on "The Place of Field Work in High School Physiography." In September, 1904, I came to Waltham to take charge of the chemistry department of the High School. I am now located in the same school and I am still teaching science. The summer of 1905 was spent in traveling through New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. Namara, Jr., as Guiler and McNamara, and associated with the law firm of Casey and Jones. I left college on graduation in 1900 and entered the Harvard Law School in October, 1900. I stayed for a year in the Law School and then remained out for a year on account of ill health. I re-entered the Law School in October, 1902, and was graduated therefrom in 1904. I, however, passed the Massachusetts Bar examinations in July, 1903, still remaining in the Law School during 1903 and 1904 to complete the course. I have written several poems which, unfortunately, have not been printed, so for the time being I have stopped writing verse, but I decline to give up finally, and whenever the spirit moves me I shall write again. I expect to go through the usual hard luck which is common to all young lawyers, and shall, like "Micawber," "wait till something turns up," at the same time using my best efforts to make "something turn up," and trusting in God that it will. I have received as yet no offices of "profit," but have some of "honor and trust," not, however, important enough to mention here. In fact people in business are prone to give the latter kind to young lawyers and young men generally.

FREDERIC CARLETON GULICK

Frederic Carleton Gulick died Sept. 26, 1902, in Boston. He was the son of William Hooper and Alice Gordon Gulick, and was born at Santander, Spain, Jan. 7, 1876. He prepared for college at the Newton High School.

WILLIAM PERRY HAGER

In the fall of 1900 I entered the Harvard Medical School, graduating in June, 1904, with the degree of M.D. In July of the same year I received a surgical appointment in the Boston City Hospital. I shall complete my term of service under this appointment in July, 1906.

NORMAN FISHER HALL

After graduation I remained four years at Harvard studying Romance Languages in the Graduate School. For two years I was assistant in French and Spanish. I received the degree of A.M. in 1903. In April, 1904, I was appointed instructor in Romance Languages in Simmons College, Boston. This position I still hold. I am not married, I have not written any books, and I do not belong to any learned societies. As to clubs, while I was in the Graduate School I was a member of the Graduate Club, and was its president for the year 1903-1904. At the organization of the Italian Club in December, 1903, I was elected secretary. In the summer of 1900 I was on the staff of the manager of the expedition of fifteen hundred Cuban school-teachers who came to Harvard, and in the following summer, 1901, I taught a class of Cuban men in the Cuban Summer School of that year. This past summer, 1905, I spent abroad, chiefly in Spain.

JOHN BROMHAM HAWES, 2d

In 1899, during my senior year in college, I entered the Harvard Medical School, having only one-half course needed for my degree of A.B. The summer of 1900 I travelled through Europe, starting in at Naples, and seeing something of Sicily, Greece, most of Italy, some of Germany, France, and England. In Switzerland I did some climbing which I remember with great pleasure. The years at the Medical School were uneventful. I lived on Pinckney Street on the hill along with many other students of all kinds. I received the degree of M.D. in 1903. In May of my fourth year, in 1903, I was appointed a house officer of the Massachusetts General Hospital, and went on service on the medical side at once; there, with the pleasantest and best of companions, I spent the next sixteen months continuously, except for a two weeks' vacation during that period. In October, 1904, I finished my service, and after a short rest opened an office at 317 Marlboro Street. There I remained one year. In September, 1905, I moved to 295 Beacon Street, where, with Dr. H. B. Smith, a classmate and fellow practitioner, I am at present. I have written for publication in medical journals some short articles on tuberculosis and other subjects. I am a member of the American Medical Association, the Massachusetts Medical Society, the Boston Medical Society, the Æsculapian Club of Boston, of which I am president, the Massachusetts General Hospital Alumni Association, the Boylston Medical Society, of which I was secretary and treasurer, the Allston Golf Club, and the Union Boat Club of Boston, of which I am captain.

married, Jan. 14, 1903, in Greenfield, to Mary Elizabeth Ballou, daughter of Charles Emerson and Mary Allen Ballou. We have one daughter, Ellen Elizabeth Hawks, born March 27, 1904, in Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

TRUMAN RIPLEY HAWLEY

After my sophomore year I left college and taught two years as principal of the North Dartmouth High School, Dartmouth, Massachusetts. Returning to college in the fall of 1900, I finished my college course in 1902, graduating "as of" 1900. I received my degree from the Harvard Law School in 1905, and am now practising law at 6 Beacon Street, Boston. I spent ten weeks of the summer of 1905 in a tour of Europe, and I am planning for a similar tour this summer. I have taught in the Malden Evening School six years, the last three years as principal.

CARLYLE ROBINSON HAYES

I am junior partner of the firm of Crain, Jones, Bixby and Company (Insurance), 70 Kilby Street, Boston. My marriage, March 23, 1901, in Providence, Rhode Island, to Agnes Frances Gallagher, was recorded in the last report. We have two children, Estelle Varney Hayes, born Dec. 24, 1902, in New York, and Carlyle Robinson Hayes, Jr., born Jan. 9, 1904, in West Newton, Massachusetts.

EDMUND HEARD

I have recently bought a plantation in South Carolina.

REGINALD CARY HEATH

I received the degree of LL.B. in 1902 at the Harvard Law School. I was married, Oct. 6, 1904, in Brookline, Massachusetts, to Dorothea Bigelow, daughter of Hanson and Elizabeth (Lane) Bigelow. We have one son, Reginald Cary Heath, Jr., born July 14, 1905, in Brookline.

On September 6th last I married Addie Kingsley Watson, daughter of Edwin S. and Annie M. Watson of Cambridge. I have been a member of the Medford Club and the Unitarian Club.

WILLIAM CLIFFORD HEILMAN

I spent the four years from the fall of 1900 to the summer of 1904 studying music in Munich, Berlin, and Paris and in travel. I then taught in Cambridge, and I am now instructor in Music in Harvard College.

CARL GUY HERBERT

Carl Guy Herbert has not been heard from.

CHARLES BROOKS HERSEY

Since graduation I have been a teacher of physics and related subjects. My first year was spent in this way at Adams Academy in Quincy, under the mastership of Dr. William Everett. My second year of teaching was in the Concord (Massachusetts) High School, and since then I have been an instructor in physics in one of the large public high schools of Buffalo, the Masten Park High School. The degree of A.M. was conferred on me by Harvard University in the June following graduation. I was married, July 27, 1904, to Margaret Bertha Sprague, daughter of George Henry and Mary Elizabeth Sprague. With another teacher I have written a manual and note book for laboratory work in physics, which is known as the National Physics Note Book by Turner and Hersey. I am a member of the Harvard Chapter of the Phi Beta Kappa, the Buffalo School Teachers' Association, the New York State Science Teachers' Association, and the Chemical Society of Western New York.

WILLIAM CHARLES HESS

After graduation I made a three months' trip in Europe on a bicycle, visiting England, France, Switzerland, Germany, and Holland. I intended to take up teaching, but returned too late from abroad to obtain a suitable position, and consequently drifted into journalism. I was employed four years in various editorial capacities on "The United States Investor," controlled by the Hon. F. P. Bennett, father of F. P. Bennett, Jr., Harvard, 1900. I resigned from this financial paper in 1905 to accept the position of financial editor on the "Journal of Commerce" of New York City, where I am still employed. I was married, Sept. 1, 1904, in New York, to Elizabeth Catherine Baumann, daughter of Robert and Elizabeth Baumann. I have been an active member of the West Side Young Men's Christian Association for several years.

FRANCIS LEE HIGGINSON, JR.

LOUIS EVERETT HILLIARD

Louis Everett Hilliard has not been heard from. His address is unknown.

ARTHUR STEDMAN HILLS

Since the autumn of 1900 I have been connected with Harvard College as instructor in public speaking, taking, in addition to this work, a special course at the Harvard Law School, whence I expect to receive the degree this year (1906). In 1903 and 1904 I undertook the Elizabethan Revival of the Harvard chapter of Delta Upsilon, producing that year "The Alchemist," a comedy by Ben Jonson; in 1904-1905 "The Silent Woman," also a comedy by Ben Jonson; and in 1905-1906 "The Wise Woman of Hogsdon," a comedy by Thomas Heywood. From my experience in this work the classical department of Harvard College has deemed me competent to superintend the dramatic action in the coming Greek play "Agamemnon." It is my intention to become a member of the Massachusetts Bar Association as soon as possible. For the present, however, I shall retain my position as instructor at Harvard College.

JOHN PETER HINCHEY

MAX HIRSCH

I left college in June, 1899, and came back to graduate with my class in June, 1900. I entered the distilling business and was made a member of the firm of the Star Distillery Company January, 1900. I was married, Feb. 22, 1906, at Cincinnati, to Effie Wyler, daughter of Louis and the late Sophie Swarts Wyler, and I intend to travel in Europe until next July. I am the director and secretary of the Phoenix Club, and a member of the Executive Committee of the Cincinnati Harvard Club, of the Board of the Governors of the United Jewish Charities, of the University Club of Cincinnati, of the Losantiville County Club, and of other societies and clubs.

HERBERT SIMON HIRSHBERG

Soon after leaving college in 1899 I engaged in the retail shoe business at Worcester, Massachusetts, where I stayed until the fall of 1900. Serious illness forced me to give up my business and to be idle the following winter and summer, which I spent convalescing in Nova Scotia. After a few months in the cotton business, which proved too severe a physical strain, a pleasant position as private tutor offered itself, and I accepted until I might be better able to endure harder work. Becoming interested in library work, I attended the Amherst Summer School of Library Economy in 1902, and shortly afterwards entered the Boston Public Library as cataloguer. At the same time I acted as assistant in the library science department of the recently opened Simmons College. Having decided on librarianship as my lifework, I determined to have the best available preliminary training, and entered the New York State Library School at Albany with the class of 1905. I was appointed assistant in the New York State Library in April, 1904, and continued in that position until after my graduation from the Library School in 1905. In the fall of 1904 I directed the reorganization of the Morse Institute Library at Natick, Massachusetts. Since September, 1905, I have been employed as assistant in the music division of the Library of Congress at Washington. I am a member of the American Library Association and the Winthrop Club of Brookline, Massachusetts.

CONRAD HOBBS

Since leaving college I have been in the wool business, and since 1903 a member of the firm of Hobbs, Taft and Company. I went to Europe in 1901 to the London wool auctions, and I spent a month in a spinning mill in Germany. I have just returned from a month's outing in Jamaica.

ROBERT HOE, JR.

I have nothing to add to my previous report, for the life of the average New York business man is too humdrum to make interesting reading. I belong to the Quill Club and the Harvard Club, both of New York.

CHARLES ALBERT HOLBROOK

After leaving college I spent four years teaching chemistry at the Lawrenceville School, Lawrenceville, New Jersey. Since October, 1904, I have been attending the Harvard Medical School. I belong to the following clubs: the Sigma Alpha Epsilon, the Lawrenceville Club, the Melrose Club of Melrose, the Nassau Club of Princeton, the Phi Rho Sigma Medical Fraternity.

RUPERT SARGENT HOLLAND

I entered the Law School of the University of Pennsylvania in the fall of 1900, and continued there until graduation in June, 1903. During this time I took considerable interest in law club work, acting as chief clerk of the Sharswood Club and as an officer of the Phi Delta Phi Fraternity. On graduation in June, 1903, I was admitted to the Bar of the Philadelphia County Courts, and, after passing the state examination, was admitted in January, 1904, to the Bar of the Supreme Court of the state. I entered the office of Culbert and Smith, and also acted as an assistant attorney of the Philadelphia Legal Aid Society. In April, 1904, I became the chief attorney for the said society and opened my own office at 1015 Harrison Building, Philadelphia. During this time I wrote a number of legal papers for the "American Law Register" and the "Green Bag." The various reform movements in the local politics of our city have interested a majority of our younger lawyers, and I took an active part in the Union party campaign in 1902 and in the recent victorious City party fight of the last fall. Together with Robert D. Jenks, Harvard, 1897, I published a small book, entitled "The Citizen's Handbook," in June, 1904. The object of the book was to give in a convenient compass the gist of those political and business facts which the average citizen should know. L. C. Page and Company of Boston have now in press a book of Harvard sketches, entitled "The Count at Harvard," which is shortly to be published. The purpose of these stories is to reproduce the college undergraduate atmosphere rather than to unravel plots, and the count is himself a composite figure with characteristics drawn from a number of men. I only hope the book's readers will get as much pleasure from it as I found in writing it. In answer to the questions asked, I must admit that I am not married, and that the only degree I have received since graduation is that of LL.B. from the University of Pennsylvania Law School. I am very much interested in the work of our Legal Aid Office, which furnishes an attorney not only experience in handling a very diversified practice, but gives him a splendid chance to study human nature. In the spring and summer of 1901 I travelled through Europe, spending considerable time in the country districts of France and Italy. I am a member of the University Club of Philadelphia, of the Merion Cricket Club, of the Franklin Inn Club, and of the Harvard clubs of Philadelphia and New York.

JOHN HODGMAN HOLLIDAY

I received my LL.B. from the Harvard Law School with the class of 1903, and in July of that year I came to St. Louis and entered the law offices of Johnson and Richards, where I read law all summer, and was admitted to practice in the State and Federal courts in October. I am still in the same offices, though the name of the firm has been changed to Johnson, Allen and Richards. My life here has been uneventful, and my time has been given to efforts to obtain experience and position in my profession, and to make and renew friendships in a community from which I had been absent for thirteen years. I am still unmarried and without prospects in that direction, but "hope springs eternal in the human breast." I am at present a member of the St. Louis Country Club, of the Harvard Club of St. Louis, and of the St. Louis Law Library Association.

CHARLES BYAM HOLLINGS

After leaving college I entered the Harvard Medical School with the class of 1906, and in 1905 was elected to the Boylston Medical Society.

WILLIAM LELAND HOLT

The summer of 1901 I worked as assistant cook in a boys' camp at Asquam Lake, New Hampshire. I am convinced that I learned more of real value during these nine weeks than during my whole college course; for here I learned that the most useful and really honorable persons in the world — that is the workers — were paid the worst, and that they were despised by the useless rich who lived royally off the wealth produced by the workers. Then I went to the Harvard Medical School and worked hard for four years. I saw poverty with all its wretched accompaniments of illness, ignorance, and moral and physical degradation at close range. I felt strongly that a physician's first business was to relieve the terrible material conditions of the poor, which were the cause of all their miseries; but it seemed hopeless. At the end of my third year, however, I met a man who showed me the basis of all this horrible social injustice in our capitalistic industrial system. My mind was freed from the old conventional bourgeois idea of "reform," and I saw that the very foundation of society, the institution of private ownership in the means of production, and the long-established "right" of one man to appropriate the produce of ten, a hundred, or thousands of other men, that this foundation of modern society must be wiped out, root and branch. I learned that the most hopeful way of doing this was by the Socialist political party. I accordingly vote this ticket. If this is printed in the Class Report, I wish to appeal to my classmates not to be deceived by the specious theories of the college professors or their false statements in regard to socialism, but to look on socialism as the most promising social, industrial, and political movement in the history of the world, and to study it without prejudice. I married, June, 1905, in Philadelphia, Polly Ernestine Dawson.

FRANKLIN GIBSON HOPKINS

I studied law one and a half years in Toledo, Ohio. I was reporter for eight months in Chicago for the City Press Association and the "Chicago Tribune," and held positions during a year as clerk in the general offices of the Great Northern Railway, Saint Paul, Minnesota, and as chief clerk in the general advertising department of the Chicago Great Western Railways, Saint Paul. Since July, 1905, I have held a position in the government service at Toledo, Ohio. I was married, July 28, 1904, in Toledo, to Mildred Mathilde Pangburn, daughter of George Edward and Maud Elizabeth Wilkins Pangburn. I have published two anthems and several songs.

JOHN DENNIS HORGAN

ANDREW LIGHT HORST

I received the A.M. degree at Columbia in 1901. That same year I was assistant in the Industrial Commission. In 1901 and 1902 I returned to Harvard. From 1902 to 1906 I was in the auditing department and the office of the general manager of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railway Company in Chicago. I am now in the office of the vice-president of this road, in charge of the operation of the New York Central Lines. In June, 1902, I published an article in the "Proceedings of the American Statistical Association" entitled the "Elements of Labor in Railway Expenditures." I am a member of the Harvard Club of Chicago.

GEORGE JEAN HOYTING

George Jean Hoyting died Jan. 25, 1899. He was the son of George Jean and Annie Barbara Teurlingx Hoyting, and was born at Jersey City, New Jersey, March 15, 1874. He was prepared for college at the High School at Waltham, Massachusetts.

GARDINER GREENE HUBBARD

When last heard from was studying at the Beaux Arts, Paris.

HENRY REED HUBBARD

In September, after my graduation from college, I began my work of teaching in Plymouth, New Hampshire. The next spring I passed the examinations for the Boston High School Teachers' Certificate, but, instead of returning to Boston, I accepted a position to teach in Plainfield, New Jersey. The summer of 1903 I spent in Cambridge, studying in the Harvard Summer School. Last spring I resigned my position in Plainfield and accepted the one which I am now filling to the best of my ability, as teacher of advanced French in the Irving School, New York City. If nothing happens to change my plans, I expect to spend the coming summer in study in France. I was married, Dec. 30, 1902, at Stanstead, Quebec, to Helen Mabel Hill, daughter of Charles Nelson and Corrilla Hubbard Hill. On Washington's Birthday, 1904, my son, George Randolph Hubbard, was born in Plainfield, New Jersey.

CAMPBELL HUMPHREY

On returning to school after the summer vacation it was the habit of our English teachers to set before us the immediate task of composing a theme on our holiday experiences. The above printed directions remind me uncomfortably of these episodes. I am not prepared nor conceited enough as yet to write my autobiography, although perhaps at the age of fifty I can make it interesting, therefore, please do not think me curt if in brief I answer your questions as follows: In July, 1900, I started at the bottom of the business ladder as clerk in an insurance office, in September, 1900, I was sent to the New York office of the firm in a more responsible position, and in October, 1901, I returned to Boston to take charge of the brokerage department for the same firm. In January, 1906, I became manager of the soliciting and brokerage department. I am fortunate in being very happily married and the father of three children. I was married at Auburndale, Feb. 18, 1902, to Fanny Austin Wheelock, and our children are, one daughter, Mary Wheelock Humphrey, born Feb. 16, 1903, and two sons, Wheelock Humphrey, born Jan. 21, 1905, and Campbell Humphrey, Jr., born Jan. 20, 1906. I have diverted myself a little with politics. I have written several insurance articles, and am much interested in the social revolution which I believe will be effected in the next decade. I am a member of the Harvard Club in New York, the Boston Chamber of Commerce, etc.

Since leaving college I have been teaching. I taught for two years in the Rindge Manual Training School, Cambridge, doing some expert accountant work in Boston at the same time. I am at present a junior master in the Boston English High School. I have also been engaged in a small way in mechanical work. I have invented a machine for desiccating eggs, and have been admitted, in recognition of my services, to partnership in the firm for which the machine was devised. Although a native of California, I became so much attached during my college days to Cambridge that I decided after graduation to make this my permanent home. It is now nearly six years since I made the decision and I have no reason to regret it. I expect to spend the rest of my life here. My marriage to Alys M. Caldwell was noted in the last report.

After graduation in 1900 I remained in the Graduate School until Christmas of 1901, acting also as an assistant in zoölogy and botany. In January, 1902, I took a position as professor of science in Fairmount College, Wichita, Kansas. On February 19 our little daughter, Grace, nearly two years old, died very suddenly. On May 4, 1902, a little daughter, Nellie Marion Avis Johnson, was born to us. Mrs. Johnson died on May 17, 1902. I immediately resigned my position in the college and returned to Cambridge. On Oct. 1, 1902, I became a teacher of biology in the Morris High School, New York City, where I am at present. The only office of any importance I have held is that of treasurer of the New York Association of Biology Teachers. I am also an officer in two unimportant social clubs.

ROSWELL HILL JOHNSON

I left Harvard at the close of my junior year to graduate at the University of Chicago only because I had begun to specialize in a particular line of biology under Professor Davenport, who was called at that time to Chicago. The summer following my graduation, I investigated housing conditions for the City Homes Association in Chicago. I have taught one year in the Sioux Falls High School, two years in the Cheney (Washington) Normal School, and assisted two years in the University of Wisconsin, where I took the degree

LOWELL BYRNS JUDSON

During the school year of 1900 and 1901 I supplied the place of Latin master at Milton Academy, Milton, Massachusetts. In August, 1901, I accepted a position in the Chicago office of Henry Holt and Company, Publishers, remaining with that firm until Christmas. After the holidays I matriculated at the Michigan Agricultural College, doing all my work in horticulture and allied subjects. The following autumn I saw that I should be able to finish my work by Christmas, so began casting about for a position, with the result that early in December I received the appointment to the chair of horticulture at the University of Idaho. I entered upon the duties of this position Jan. 1, 1903, and have discharged them to the best of my ability ever since. I have found the far West highly agreeable, and the work very interesting and pleasant. The degree of B.S. was conferred upon me in June, 1903, by the Michigan Agricultural College. I have published, besides various minor articles in the rural press, two Experiment Station bulletins on "Planting the Apple Orchard" and "Pruning the Apple Orchard," respectively, and now have about ready for press one on "Harvesting and Marketing the Apple." I am a member of the American Pomological Society, the American Breeders Association, the Northwest Fruitgrowers Association, and the State Horticultural Association.

I left college at the end of my freshman year and served as reporter on the "Philadelphia Press" from July, 1897, to August, 1898. Then I was editorial and special writer and literary and dramatic critic on the same paper until November, 1904, when I became associate editor of the "Saturday Evening Post," a position which I have held ever since. I made a tour of the middle and far West during the summer of 1904. As a reporter for the "Philadelphia Press" I covered the Molineux Case, New York, the Burdick Case, Buffalo, the Baltimore Fire, and the great Coal Strike, and so forth. In the political reform movement in Philadelphia in 1905 and 1906 I was City Party President of the Division Association for the seventh division, eighth ward. I was ward committee-man, delegate to the councilmanic convention, member of the campaign committee and of the committees for political reform. My marriage and the birth of my daughter, Hildegarde, were noted in the last report. I have written several novels and contributed constantly to periodicals.

I was house officer in the Massachusetts General Hospital from April, 1904, to August, 1905. I am practising medicine at my home address 16 Brimmer Street, Boston. I am at present a trustee of the Trinity Dispensary, Boston. I am a member of the Boylston Medical Society, the Æsculapian Club, the University Club, and the Union Boat Club of Boston.

GEORGE COOK KIMBALL

After leaving college in June, 1900, I visited Europe, travelling through England, Belgium, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, and France. I left Boston shortly after I returned from Europe, and accepted a position in the engineering department of the American Tin Plate Company at Pittsburg. In 1904 the American Tin Plate Company and the American Sheet Steel Company (both subsidiary companies of the Steel Corporation) were consolidated, and shortly after that time I was appointed assistant chief engineer. On Oct. 1, 1905, I became chief engineer of the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company. In November, 1902, I was married at Lakewood, New Jersey, to Elizabeth Leeds, and we have one child, Marjorie Stuart Kimball, born Dec. 12, 1904, in Pittsburg. I belong to the following clubs: the Duquesne Club, Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, the University Club of Pittsburg, the Pittsburg Field Club, the Harvard Club of Western Pennsylvania, and the New York Harvard Club.

FRANK HENRY KIRMAYER

I was married, June 15, 1903, in New York City, to Catherine Dean Branyan, daughter of Robert and Cecelia Branyan. I have two children, Francis Dean Kirmayer, born March 31, 1904, and Thomas Dean Kirmayer, born Aug. 11, 1905.

While in the oil business I made a trip to Panama, with a view of having the government change from coal to oil as a fuel on the isthmus. So far as the change was concerned, the canal authorities have made a start towards oil, but their supply is being obtained from California instead of Texas. I am at present assistant engineer with the Houston Electric Company, one of the Texas properties belonging to Stone and Webster of Boston. On June 11, 1903, I married Mary Stockett Jacob, daughter of Lieut. E. S. Jacob, United States Navy, Washington, D. C.

On leaving college I studied Sloyd at the Larsson Sloyd Training School in Boston, thence I went to Manchester, New Hampshire, and accepted a position there as instructor in wood-work in their Manual Training School. The following fall I accepted the position of supervisor of Sloyd in an institution in Mississippi. From there I went to Lansing, Michigan, and introduced and taught Sloyd in the Michigan State Industrial School. There I met my wife, who was superintendent of the State Hospital attached to the school, being a graduate nurse from Grace Hospital, Detroit. While there I became interested in osteopathy, or rather renewed an interest, caused by a cure wrought on my mother where medicine had failed, and resolved to study that new science. We left Lansing March 28, 1905, for Kirksville, Missouri, where we are at present studying osteopathy under its founder, Andrew Taylor Still. I expect to graduate in oste-

I was graduated from the New York Law School in June, 1903, and admitted to the New York Bar the same year and month. I practised with my cousin, E. A. Bigelow, in New York until the fall of 1904. I came to Tacoma, Washington, in November, 1904, expecting to take up law, but finding a growing town with many undeveloped industries and the legal profession pretty full, I went into the lumber and timber business, as secretary to W. W. Seymour. In February of this year I bought an interest in the Hague Box and Lumber Company. Our plant is small as mills go in this part of the country, and those of us interested are doing the clerical work and superintending the various branches. While nominally superintendent of the whole works, I devote much of my time to tallying, shipping, and especially to the saw mill. I might add that I am much pleased with this portion of the West, and I believe that Puget Sound has a great future, and that Tacoma and Seattle will have a large part of the business increase. It is growing rapidly and is experiencing a small boom at present on account of the new railroads coming in. If any of the fellows are blue or feel stifled from breathing the atmosphere of centuries, I advise them to come out and at least get a little of the spice of life in this big country.

After leaving Harvard I was ill with appendicitis and had an operation performed. In the fall I entered the Massachusetts Institute of Technology as a second year man in the department of mining engineering. I was graduated with the class of 1903, receiving the degree of S.B. During my course I visited, in the summer vacations, England and the Continent. I spent one summer in Mexico in the state of Durango, working at the San Fernando mine, crossing the Sierra Madre muleback, and coming home via Parral and El Paso. After receiving my S.B. degree I took the position of assistant engineer at the Camp Bird Mine, Colorado, staying there a year and two months, then, having obtained a lease on Stratton's Independence Mine at Cripple Creek, I left Camp Bird to operate that lease. I stayed in Cripple Creek, leasing in various mines in the district, until July, 1905. During my stay I took one trip on mining business, visiting districts in New Mexico, Sonora, California, and Goldfield, Nevada. In July I took charge of a placer examination on the San Juan River, southeastern Utah, and, completing that in September, went on a hunting trip in northern Wyoming. I am at present interested in leasing in Cripple Creek and in several mining operations elsewhere. I have just returned from a trip through Mexico and Arizona, having visited many mining districts in those countries. I am a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers.

Graduating from college in June, 1900, I entered the Third National Bank of Boston as clerk. But not finding the calling congenial I resigned at the end of three months to take up school-teaching. I taught history, English, French, and German in the Concord High School, Concord, Massachusetts, for a period of four years. During the summer months it is my wont to enter into athletics, and in this connection I have played baseball on several semi-professional nines, namely, Woonsocket, Milford, St. Albans, and Burlington. At the close of the summer of 1905 I entered the Harvard Law School, where I remained a year. In April I was appointed clerk of court in the district court of Central Middlesex, Concord, Massachusetts. I now hold this position. I am also teaching in the Massachusetts Reformatory Evening schools. The only society with which I am affiliated is the Knights of Columbus Council, number 287, in which I hold the position of recording secretary, and I am also a member of the Clerk of Courts Association of Massachusetts.

ROBERT MÜHLIG MAHONEY

I received the degree of LL.B. at the Harvard Law School in 1902. I began law practice alone at Salem, Massachusetts, in the summer of 1902. In August, 1903, I went into partnership with Henry P. Moulton, Esq., United States District Attorney for the district of Massachusetts, and continued to practise at Salem. Mr. Moulton died in December, 1904, and ever since I have conducted the same offices alone.

EDWARD MALLINCKRODT, JR.

I spent one year in graduate work at Harvard, receiving an A.M. in 1901 in chemistry. Part of the work done for that degree was published in 1905 by the United States Department of Agriculture in a bulletin of the Office of Experiment Stations, entitled, "Dietary Studies with Harvard University Students," the work having been done under the supervision of the above office. After spending the summer of 1901 abroad, I entered the Mallinckrodt Chemical Works as chemist, and in 1905 contributed conjointly with E. A. Dunlap (Harvard, 1900) a paper upon the assay of opium which appeared in the "Journal of the Chemical Society." At present I am a chemist and director in the above mentioned factory. I am a member of the Harvard Club of New York, Adirondack League Club, New York, and the Academy of Science of St. Louis.

HENRY ENDICOTT MAREAN

I was married, Jan. 21, 1904, to Edith Denton Brooks at Cambridge. I have one daughter, Mary Marean, born Jan. 22, 1906, in Belmont, Massachusetts.

GEORGE FREDERICK WOODWARD MARK

At the completion of my work in Harvard, June, 1900, I accepted the principalship of the High School of Dubois, Pennsylvania, which position I held for one year. I then leased the Hudson River Institute at Claverac, New York, intending to conduct this school, as it had been in the past, — as a college preparatory school, but the coal strike of that year in anthracite regions made it impossible to secure fuel, except at such high prices as twenty-five dollars per ton, and in consequence I was obliged to abandon the school. I accepted the superintendency of the Punxsutawney, Pennsylvania schools in 1904, and have held the position since that time. My career has been somewhat checkered since I left Harvard, but I am to blame in a way for it. I am ambitious to attain to a more responsible position in educational work, and because of this I have made changes whenever I could better my condition in any way. My marriage to Katharine M. Frain and the birth of my son were mentioned in the last report.

KENNETH McGEOCH MARTIN

From April, 1902, until April, 1905, was with the Claremont Paper Company at their mill in Claremont, New Hampshire. Lately I have been with Clarke and Company, wholesale paper brokers, in New York. I was married on April 22, 1903, in Bellows Falls, Vermont, to Frances Mary Morse. I have one child, Eda McGeoch Martin, born at Claremont, New Hampshire, May 29, 1904. I am a member of the Harvard Club of New York.

WILLIAM ROGER MARTIN

I am at present assistant general agent of the Mutual Benefit Life Insurance Company of Newark, New Jersey, for Kansas and western Missouri. I was married, Dec. 28, 1904, in Liberty, Missouri, to Leah Bell Courtney, daughter of Caldwell C. and Flora S. D. Courtney. My son, Roger Courtney Martin, was born in Liberty, Missouri, Jan. 1, 1906.

On Dec. 10, 1900, I started with Morgan Spring Company (wire, steel springs), and at the end of two years I was transferred to the Morgan Construction Co. as foreign purchasing agent. In about one year the local purchasing agent died and I took up both tasks, so that at present all buying is in my hands, also I have full charge of freight matters. I was one of the founders and a charter member of the Winter Club, and was chosen its first clerk. I was re-elected the second year, and was made director the third year. I belong to the Worcester Harvard Club, the Worcester Economic Club, the Young Men's Republican Club, Winter Club, and Tatnuck Country Club.

ELIAS MAYER

After graduation I went to the Law School of Northwestern University for three years and graduated in June, 1903. I was admitted to the Bar, May, 1903. I practised alone for one year, from August, 1903, to August, 1904, then became a member of the firm of Stein, Mayer, Stein and Hume, attorneys and counsellors at law, and have been practising as a member of the said firm since August, 1904. I am a member of the New Illinois Athletic Club, the Book and Play Club, the Chicago Bar Association, the Chicago Whist Club, the Iroquois Boat Club.

HENRY ROGERS MAYO

Since my graduation from the Harvard Law School, which I entered during my senior year, I have been continuously engaged in the practice of the law with offices at Lynn, Massachusetts, associated with William H. Niles.

ELIJAH WOOD MEDDAUGH, JR.

Elijah Wood Meddaugh, Jr., has not been heard from.

HENRY KNIGHTS MELCHER

I travelled in England for two months after leaving college in 1900. I studied in a law office from October, 1900, to October, 1901. I entered the employ of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in October, 1901, and have worked there ever since, being connected with the engineers' department. I am a member of the Salem Republican Club, the Ward Six Improvement Association, Salem, the O. U. A. M., and Second Corps of Cadets (Sergeant). I was elected to the Common Council of Salem from ward six in 1904 and have been a member up to the present time.

WALTER CURRAN MENDENHALL

I have been engaged continuously since 1900 in professional work for the United States Geological Survey, the results appearing in the publications of that organization and in various scientific journals. Geological problems of various types have been the subjects of my study, and various fields have been visited, including the State of Washington, California, and Alaska.

CHARLES KRIEBLE MESCHTER

In the fall after having been graduated from Harvard, I assumed the duties of head of the departments of English and German in Perkiomen Seminary, Pennsburg, Pennsylvania, and held this position until the fall of 1905. I was elected to an instructorship in English in Lehigh University, South Bethlehem, Pennsylvania, the duties of which I assumed in the fall of 1905, and I hold the same position now. During the academic years of 1904 to 1905 and 1905 to 1906 I have, in addition to my duties as instructor, studied in the Graduate School of the University of Pennsylvania. My marriage was noted in the last report.

EDWIN FLINT METCALF

Edwin Flint Metcalf has not been heard from.

GEORGE HARRISON MIFFLIN, JR.

After college I went abroad for a year and a half, and, though I made Paris my headquarters, and was there over eight months in all, I visited Italy and Sicily during the spring of 1901, Norway (North Cape), Germany, and Austria in the summer, and the first months of my trip were in France, Switzerland, and the Netherlands. Before returning I studied the French book-binding, and shortly after my return entered the Riverside Press, Cambridge, where I have been ever since, save for a few weeks visiting friends in Paris and England in the spring of 1905. My work lies largely in the artistic side of book-making, — the interior decorations, illustrations, and covers of books, besides general active interest in new publishing schemes.

JAMES STEPHENS MINARY

No information has been received since last report.

THOMAS LAWRENCE MISKELL

Thomas Lawrence Miskell has not been heard from.

EDWARD HEINE MOELLER

Edward Heine Moeller has not been heard from.

CHARLES MOLINE

Since leaving college I have been graduated at the Harvard Veterinary Medical School, and in 1903 came to Sunderland to practise medicine. I have also an office in South Deerfield, and do more or less business in the surrounding towns. Nothing of importance has happened to me, nothing much does happen here, except in a professional way. I was married, Sept. 14, 1904, to Edith Earle Guilford, daughter of Emma C. and the late Anson B. Guilford. I have joined no clubs and the only society to which I belong is the Massachusetts Medical Society.

I have nothing to report which would be of interest to the Class.

HOWARD BURTON MOORE

Howard Burton Moore has not been heard from.

RALPH SPENCER MOORE

As my brother is so far away I take the liberty of filling this out for him.

The first two years after Ralph left college he was in Cuba, engineering for the government. He was at home about a year and a half after that and then went to Cuba, Porto Rico, and Mexico, travelling for a New York business house. He travelled over that territory for two years, and then this same concern put him in charge of their Australian house at Sydney, New South Wales. Java, Siam, Tasmania and New Zealand are also included in his territory. He expects to be at Sydney for about three years.

WILLIAM B. MOORE.

WILLIAM ADDISON MOORE

After leaving Cambridge I went to my father's home at Moore Park, Toronto, to regain my health after an attack of pneumonia. I went to Red Deer, Alberta, Canada, in the summer of 1900 for the same reason, acting as land agent and, besides operating a stone quarry, bought and shipped wheat and oats, and I also opened a private bank. After about two years of this I returned East to Toronto, and in the fall of 1901 went to Chicago, where, until Jan. 1, 1903, I was employed with the Chicago Edison Company in various capacities, including practical work, engineering, and work in the contract department. At the beginning of 1903 I was employed by the Fairbanks Morse Company of Chicago to take charge of electrical construction. I was also electrical expert for the same company until June, 1904. At this date I went West to Red Deer, Alberta, Canada, to see if conditions were ripe for starting an electric light plant and telephone service in Red Deer. Later in the summer of 1904 I went east to Chicago and bought the necessary supplies for telephone and electric light plants. I had the plants in operation by Nov. 1, 1904. The population of Red Deer is about two thousand, and there are about eighteen hundred sixteen candle power lights connected and a hundred and twenty-five telephones in use. The name of the company here is the Western General Electric Company, Limited. I am managing director, and our capital is $100,000 — $42,000 of which is issued and taken up at par. The company is preparing for large extensions and is pushing out into the surrounding country with toll and farmers' lines. The apparatus of the Western General Electric Company is all modern and strictly first class, and the prospects for this town and country are very bright, as the location is in the centre of Alberta, the best part of western Canada. This is a splendid country for young men with a little capital, — even a few hundred dollars wisely handled will double and redouble in a short time. It is not Fairy Land, but it is good. I was married to Frances Mary Bradley, July 12, 1905, in Beloit, Wisconsin.

GEORGE ABBOT MORISON

I am still with the Bucyrus Company, holding the office of assistant secretary. This company is furnishing all the machinery used to dig the Panama Canal. I lived at the University Club, Milwaukee, until my marriage, Jan. 1, 1906, to Amelia Huntly Elmore, daughter of Ettinge and Harriet C. Elmore. Since then I have been keeping house in this suburb.

HORACE MORISON

After leaving college I spent about sixteen months in Europe. Six months were given to general travel, five to Italy, four to France, and one to Norway. Returning home I soon entered a banking and bond house, where I remained over three years until my marriage on March 27, 1905, to

CHARLES HENRY MORRILL

I am with the firm of W. H. Markham and Company (insurance). My business includes underwriting of all classes of risks, such as fire, life, marine, and accident insurance. Largely interested in railroad insurance and inspections, I manage the Individual Fire Underwriters of St. Louis, and I am agent for the American and foreign companies. I am a member of the following clubs: the Monday and Country clubs of St. Louis, and the University and Harvard clubs of St. Louis, of both of which I am treasurer.

CHARLES HERBERT MORRILL

Charles Herbert Morrill has not been heard from.

FRANCIS XAVIER MORRILL

Francis Xavier Morrill has not been heard from.

FREDERIC WILLIAM MORRISON

After graduation I taught two years at Harvard as assistant in French and Spanish, and I am now in my second year as instructor in modern languages in the United States Naval Academy. I was married, Nov. 5, 1901, to Rosario Muñoz y Carvajal, daughter of Dr. Vicente Muñoz Barreda and Eladia Carvajal León. I have published in collaboration with Philip Churchman a Spanish text, "La Alegría del Capitán Ribot, by Carmando Palacco Valdés," with introduction, notes, and vocabulary edited by D. C. Heath and Company, Boston.

JAMES FRANCIS MORRISON

I received the degree of M.D. at the Johns Hopkins Medical School in June, 1904. I was interne at the Connecticut Hospital for the Insane at Middletown, Connecticut, and later at Kings County Hospital, Brooklyn, New York. I am at present at the latter hospital.

WILLIAM MORROW

After the summer of 1900 I entered the magazine publishing business, securing a position with "McClure's Magazine." I remained there until February, 1903, with business duties connected with the magazine and some editorial duties connected with the books published by McClure, Phillips and Company. I came immediately to "Leslie's Monthly" which was then beginning to push forward. I have been connected with both business and editorial departments ever since. For the first two years several of the business departments needed reorganization, and I had comparatively little time for detailed editorial work, but of late I have been devoting about two-thirds of my time to direct editorial duties. Last summer the name of our magazine was changed from "Leslie's Monthly" to the "American Magazine." I am associate editor of the magazine and also treasurer of the corporation which publishes it. I have not been abroad since graduation, but have travelled for my magazine work in nearly every section of the United States. I received the degree of A.M. from Harvard in 1901. I am a member of the Harvard and Players clubs of New York, of the Periodical Publishers Association, and the Belmont Cricket Club, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

HORACE HENRY MORSE

In 1900-1901 I registered in the Harvard Graduate School in the department of history, at the same time acting as assistant to Professor Macvane in History 12. I received the degree of A.M. from Harvard in 1901. The following year I taught English and history in the Asheville School, Asheville, North Carolina. I returned in 1902 and again worked in the Graduate School and as assistant, this time in Professor Macvane's History 16. For a third time, in 1903-1904, I was member of the Graduate School, but only with work in one course, a second year in Russian. Most of my time was occupied as assistant in History 16 and in giving a course in modern European history at Simmons College, Boston. In 1904-1905 I gave up my assistantship at Harvard, but continued my work at Simmons. Since Oct. 1, 1905, I have worked in the catalogue department of the Harvard College Library, and three evenings a week taught in the Ballou and Hobigand Preparatory School, Boston. I am a member of the Boston Latin School Association, the Old South Historical Society, the Harvard Chapter  $\Phi$  B K, the American Historical Association, and the National Educational Association.

WILBUR MORSE

After graduation I went on the staff of "The Press," Philadelphia, and a year later I went to Denver, Colorado, as advertising manager for Daniels and Fisher Stores Company. I returned to Philadelphia in 1902 and again joined the staff of "The Press." In December, 1902, I went to Ardmore, Montgomery County, Pennsylvania, as editor of the "Lower Merion News." On June 15, 1905, I was appointed secretary to the Pennsylvania Commissioner of Health. I was married, April 13, 1902, to Katherine Larnard. I have a son, Wilbur Morse, Jr., born July 6, 1903, at Philadelphia.

JAMES HARRIS MORSS

I received the degree of A.B. from Boston University in 1903. Since then I have been teaching in the Frye School, Boston, and the Wareham High School. I am now teaching in Marion, Massachusetts.

WALTER GUY MORTLAND

Under this head there is very little of interest to say. Shortly after leaving Harvard I engaged myself to Jones and Laughlin, at their Eliza Furnace department, at a salary of $35 per month. It was not long until my position was changed and my services rewarded with the munificent sum of $50 each thirty days. My work in the chemical laboratory required my attention seven days a week from 7 A.M. to 6 P.M., changing every two weeks to a night turn lasting from 5 P.M. until 7 the next morning. This lasted until I secured a position as secretary to the general superintendent of the Saint Clair Steel Co. at $65 per month. I remained in this position until the plant was almost completed, and in a little over a year had merited an advance of $10 a month in salary. Then an opening came in my line and I accepted a position which paid me $1200 a year. A few months later I launched into the business world on my own account with very little money, but with a host of staunch and influential friends anxious to see me make good. Since then all has been well with me, for the first year ended with something over $10,000 on the right side of the ledger. Now I am the sole owner of a prosperous lumber and fire brick business. I have not yet done much in club life, although I am a 32d degree Mason and belong to the local Harvard and Delta Upsilon clubs. My acts of public service have consisted chiefly in going to the polls consistently and urging my friends never to neglect to cast their vote, and for the right man if possible. The Lacrosse Team which was so roundly ridiculed by our class taught me the lessons I will always cherish most highly. We needed encouragement, yet very little was accorded us, and in spite of it all myself and my earnest manager were able to put the game on its feet and prepare the way for the championship teams which followed us. The game had merit and we recognized it; that we forced others to see its good points by our persistence is our reward in part, — its complement is the lesson to which I will attribute any success to which I may attain; if you champion a good cause it is foolish to give up even if everybody seems to be against you. So, after all, the Class of 1900 has only my best thanks and hearty well wishes.

electric departments. I had been in the employ of this company since graduation. I retained this position until March 1, 1906, when I resigned to accept a better position with the Edison Electric Illuminating Company of Boston, Massachusetts. My marriage was noted in the last report. We have a daughter, Marjorie Gaylord Moses, born Jan. 23, 1905, in Chelsea, Massachusetts. I have been a member of the University Club of Boston for about three years.

SAMUEL LYMAN MUNSON, JR.

I have lived continuously in Albany, New York, after graduation, and I have been engaged in manufacturing. I joined the local University Club soon after my return, and I have served on the board of trustees and house committee for the last two years. I left the United States about two months ago for a few months' trip to Egypt, Palestine, and Europe with my father. I hope to return in time for the sexennial celebration.

ARTHUR BECKWITH MYRICK

In June, 1901, I received the A.M. at Harvard. During the years 1902 and 1904 held an Austin Teaching Fellowship in Romance Languages at Harvard College. In June, 1904, I took the degree of Ph.D. at Harvard. The following year, 1904 to 1905, I was professor incaricato of English Literature at the Royal Academy, and professor of English at the Università Bocconi, in Milan, Italy. I resigned and returned to the United States in June, 1905. In August, 1905, I was appointed to the chair of Romance Languages at the University of Vermont. I was married in Wellesley, Massachusetts, June 11, 1903, to May Edwardes Selfe, daughter of Joseph Edwin and Jennie Edwardes Selfe. I was recently elected a member of the Ethan Allen Club of Burlington. I co-operated in the compilation of the "Dante Concordance," published by the Dante Society, and in the translation of sources for Robertson's and Blair's "History of the Philippine Islands," also in the translation of Beaumarchais' "Barbier de Séville," Dent and Co., London, 1905.

LOUIS NELSON

I have studied medicine since leaving college, obtaining the degrees of M.D., Harvard, in 1904 and A.M., Harvard, in 1905. At present I am assisting in the department of pharmacology at the Harvard Medical School, and I am doing research work in scientific medicine.

GEORGE NICHOLS

I have continued with Minot Hooper and Company in the dry goods commission business at 140 Thomas Street, New York, since the last class report. I belong to the Harvard Club of New York and the Seawanhakee Corinthian Yacht Club.

GEORGE MONROE GAGE NICHOLS

I have been engaged in the general practice of law in Haverhill since Dec. 1, 1903, in the firm of Nichols and Brewster. I was elected city attorney for the city of Haverhill Jan. 1, 1906. I am a member of the Pentucket Club, vice-president of the Wachusett Club, treasurer and attorney for the Haverhill Fire Appliance Company, and counsel for the Pentucket Savings Bank of Haverhill. My first marriage and the birth of my daughter, Elizabeth Carleton Nichols, were noted in the last report. I was married at Haverhill, Sept. 6, 1905, to Frances Wedgewood Mitchell, daughter of Isaac Lewis and Adele Philbrook Mitchell.

CHARLES EDWARD NIXDORFF, JR.

On leaving college I studied for a term at Balliol College, Oxford, spent a year in European travel, and returned and entered the Harvard Law School, from which I was graduated in 1904. Since then I have been practising law in Boston at 4 Liberty Square. I am a member of the Twentieth Century Club of Boston.

Clifford Norton has not been heard from. His address is unknown.

CARL SHEPARD OAKMAN

I was graduated from the Medical School June, 1903, and served in the Massachusetts General Hospital until July, 1904. I started in Detroit, Michigan to practise medicine in January, 1905. My practice is mostly confined to surgery. I am an assistant editor of the "Detroit Medical Journal" and have contributed articles to current medical periodicals. I am an instructor in the Detroit College of Medicine and an assistant in the Detroit Clinical Laboratory. I am secretary of the class of 1903, Harvard Medical School, and of the Fine Arts Society of Detroit. I belong to the American Medical Association, Michigan State Medical Society, and Wayne County Medical Society.

JOHN DEAN GILLET OGLESBY

I left college in April, 1898, having been elected captain of Troop K, 1st Lieutenant Volunteer Cavalry in the Spanish-American War. I served at Chickamauga and Fort Sheridan, acting as major of the Third Squadron. On being mustered out in October, 1898, I spent a year at home recuperating from typhoid fever. Then I went to work at the iron mills of the Republic Iron & Steel Company at East Chicago. Later I was appointed inspector at the same mills. I was appointed secretary to the Governor of Illinois in 1901, and I was also appointed colonel and A. D. C. Illinois National Guard, and elected secretary of the Governor's Staff. I resigned the office of secretary to the Governor in 1904, having been nominated from the 28th district to the House of Representatives of the Illinois Legislature. I was elected and I am still serving my term. I am the superintendent of the farming interests and estates of my mother, — four thousand six hundred acres in Logan County, Illinois. I am a member of the Saugamo Club of Springfield, Illinois, and vice-president of the Log Cabin Club of the same city.

THOMAS ORDWAY

After graduating from Harvard in 1900 I returned to assist in zoölogy at Harvard and Radcliffe in 1900 and 1901. I obtained the A.M. degree the same year. In the fall of 1901 I entered the Harvard Medical School, and in the spring of 1902 went to Italy, Austria, France, and Switzerland for a few months. In 1902, during the first half year, I was appointed "prosector" in anatomy and, during the last half year, assistant in physiology at the Harvard Medical School. In 1904, owing to illness, I was obliged to leave the Medical School and spend a few months in the South. Notwithstanding this, however, I succeeded in passing all the final examinations, and graduated with my Class, receiving the degree of M.D., cum laude, in 1905. In the fall of 1905 I was appointed house officer at the Boston City Hospital, on the first medical service, having previously substituted in the pathological department for four months. At this time I also passed the state board examinations in medicine, and was made a member of the Massachusetts Medical Society, the American Medical Association, and the Harvard Medical Alumni Association. I was married on April 6, 1906, to Mary Olive Baker, daughter of Daniel Weld and Chloe Davenport Baker of Dorchester. We live in West Roxbury.

gaged in private teaching. The following year I taught one term in a public school in town, and after that decided to take up civil engineering. In the fall of 1902 I secured a place as rodman on an engineering corps of the Pittsburg, Shawmut and Northern Railroad. I was with this company through the winter, engaged in locating new roads, and had some interesting experiences travelling through the wilds of western Pennsylvania. Then I was sent to run the transit on some construction work in New York. After this work was finished I was at home for more than a year. Last September I made an engagement with the Buffalo & Susquehanna Coal Mining Company, whose principal office is at DuBois, Pennsylvania. I was sent out here to Plumville, Pennsylvania, to run the instruments. Our party lived in a temporary camp until a short time ago, when a hotel and a number of new houses were opened. Eight new mines have been opened and ninety houses built, and the new town of Sagamore promises soon to become a flourishing mining town.

GEORGE RALPH OSBORNE

George Ralph Osborne has not been heard from.

EUGENE WILBUR OWEN

in the Asheville School, Asheville, North Carolina. From 1902 to 1904 I held a similar position at the Worcester Academy, Worcester, Massachusetts. The winter of 1904 found me again at Cambridge in search of a master's degree. The possession of this was sufficient to get me a place as instructor in physics and astronomy at Haverford College, Haverford, Pennsylvania, where I now am. I have been granted a leave of absence for the following year in order to pursue further study at Cambridge. Last summer I spent in travel abroad, visiting France, Italy, Switzerland, and Spain. I was a member of the party sent out from the Lick Observatory, California, to observe the total eclipse of the sun in Spain, Aug. 30, 1905. We had almost perfect weather, and obtained very satisfactory results. I am a member of the Harvard Club of Philadelphia.

HENRY GEORGE PARCHEN

I have been in charge of a wholesale drug business, which my brothers and I own, ever since I left college.

GURDON SALTONSTALL PARKER

When last heard from was with McKim, Mead and White, architects, New York City.

HOWARD PARKER

I was in Porto Rico for five years, and expect to go to Buenos Ayres, Argentine Republic, South America, for the United Shoe Machinery Company of Boston. I belong to the Eastern Yacht, Puritan, and Harvard clubs.

RALPH PRESTON PARSONS

Since graduation I have been a teacher in the Gloucester High School.

ARTHUR EUGENE PECKER

Since leaving college I have been connected with the Swampscott Gelatine Company, and at present I am treasurer of the said concern. I was married in Milton, Massachusetts, Dec. 11, 1901, to Josephine Elizabeth Twisden, daughter of Henry T. and Jessie F. Twisden.

JOHN JUDAH PECKHAM

After leaving college I entered the Law School of Northwestern University at Chicago, was graduated there in 1903, and have since been practising law in the office of Peckham, Smith, Packard and Apmadox, at 1050 First National Bank Building, Chicago.

THOMAS WENTWORTH PEIRCE

I am the treasurer of Fiske and Company, Incorporated, Building Materials, of Boston and New York, and also director of the Corralitos Company and of the Candelaria Mining Company. I have made two business trips to Mexico in the past two years to inspect the ranch of the Corralitos Company and the gold and silver mines of the Candelaria Company. Since the last report I have had a son, Thomas Wentworth Peirce, Jr., born March 16, 1902, at Topsfield, Massachusetts. I am a member of the Puritan and Exchange clubs of Boston, and the Harvard Club of New York.

GEORGE LEROY PERRY

RAY POTTER PERRY

After leaving college I took a position with the Barrett Manufacturing Company and have been with them continuously since at their Cleveland, Ohio, office. This company manufactures and deals in products of coal tar, chiefly in the line of roofing and paving materials. My work has been mainly connected with the manufacturing end of the business and with the handling of the local traffic department. In December, 1904, I was married to Isabel Hannah Dunham, daughter of Truman and Helen Sutcliff Dunham of Cleveland. For several months we lived with my parents, moving in September, 1905, to our present home at 91 Dorchester Avenue (new numbering, 1841 65th St., N. E. This new name and number may not be permanent since there is considerable dissatisfaction here with the new system of naming and numbering streets. My office address, therefore, is safer, 1213 Williamson Building, Cleveland, Ohio). Together with other local Harvard men, I assisted in organizing and establishing the Harvard Club of Cleveland in May, 1904. We have at present about seventy active members. In January, 1905, I was elected secretary and treasurer, and at the annual meeting, Feb. 10, 1906, I was re-elected to serve another year. Cleveland is not a Harvard town, the tendency of the boys being to go to Yale or Cornell. Our Harvard Club has begun a movement for increasing interest in Harvard among boys preparing for college, and we hope gradually to acquire a stronger position. My only other club connection has been with the University Club of Cleveland.

ROSWELL FOULK PHELPS

After leaving college in June, 1900, I spent three months abroad, visiting England, Scotland, Belgium, Germany, Switzerland, and Italy. In September of the same year I returned to Boston and became a resident at the South End House, University Settlement, as holder of the Harvard South End House Fellowship. The degree of A.M. was awarded me at Harvard in 1900 for non-resident work in sociology and economics, and I was reappointed, holding the fellowship for a second year. During the summer of 1901 I went to England for a short stay, and returned to the South End House for the academic year of 1901-1902. In June, 1902, I was awarded the degree of M.A. (honorary) at Amherst College. During the summer of 1902 I was with Wm. Filene's Sons, Boston, as private secretary, and during the fall and winter, 1902-1903, conducted a special statistical investigation for a member of the Boston Public School Committee. In April, 1903, I entered the employ of the statistical department of the city of Boston as statistical clerk, and remained there until December, 1904, when I was transferred, under civil service rules, to the Massachusetts Bureau of Statistics of Labor, where I am now employed, having served as Clerk and Inspector of Special Agents in the field in connection with that Bureau. In addition to my regular employment, my special work has been largely in connection with settlement activities, principally boys' club work and investigation of social subjects. On Oct. 5, 1904, I was married to Elizabeth Laing Gibb of Dedham, and have since made Dedham my place of residence. I have published a monograph, "South End Factory Operatives, Employment, and Residence," published by the South End House Association, 1903; reviews in the "Publications of American Statistical Association," 1904 and 1905; and miscellaneous articles on social topics in newspapers and periodicals.

PHILIP BERNARD PHILIPP

I was married, Oct. 26, 1904, in New York, to Grace Kimball Ballard, daughter of Frederick Edward and Elizabeth Keeler Ballard. We have one son, Frederick Bernard Philipp, born June 1, 1905.

WILLIAM PHILLIPS

Mrs. J. C. Phillips writes: William has been in Peking since last July. You could not get an answer from him in time for your report I fear. He was private secretary to Mr. Choate in England for a little over two years. He left the Law School about three months before graduating (to go to England) so did not get a degree.

WILLIAM GRAY PHIPPEN

I finished the course of four years at the Harvard Medical School, graduating in 1904 with the degree of M.D. I served for sixteen months as surgical house officer at the Massachusetts General Hospital. I am a member of the following organizations: the Massachusetts Medical Association, the Harvard Medical Alumni Association, the Boylston Medical Society, the Æsculapian Club of Boston, the University Club of Boston, the Salem Club of Salem, Massachusetts.

engaged in the manufacture and sale of looms for weaving. The Winter Club and the Quinsigamond Boat Club are the only clubs I have joined since leaving college. These are both Worcester clubs.

GEORGE WATSON PRESBY

After receiving my degree from the Lawrence Scientific School in June, 1900, I spent several weeks as an interpreter with the "Expedición de Maestros Cubanos." I was with them until they left Philadelphia for Habana in August. After a short vacation I went to Florida, in November, where I suffered a very severe and painful accident and was sent home. I was confined for ten weeks in my room under doctor's care. At the expiration of this period I left for Habana to accept position in the department of engineering there, where I served as draftsman, computer, and designer on plans for a sewerage system. After the declaration of Cuban Independence I continued in my position until all American positions had been filled by Cuban citizens, and left shortly after for the United States. Shortly after I accepted a position in Boston, which I held until April, 1905, and then accepted a position with my present employers, The Robert Schaellibaum Company of Providence, Rhode Island, as their agent and representative for Mexico. To acquaint myself better with the cotton business I spent four months in the southern states, and left New York in August to open an office in Mexico City, where I have my present headquarters.

RICHARD REES PRICE

I received my A.M. degree at Harvard in 1901. I was principal of the Hutchinson, Kansas, High School from 1901 to 1902. I am now superintendent of the city schools of Hutchinson, Kansas, and a joint editor of the "Interstate Schoolman," an educational journal issued from Hutchinson, Kansas. My marriage on Aug. 28, 1901, to Louise Snow Wood, was noted in the first report. We have one child, Sarah Price, born Sept. 24, 1903.

When last heard from was with Prouty Brothers, Shoe Manufacturers, Spencer, Massachusetts.

RALPH PULITZER

I am still working in journalism, having been elected vice-president of the Press Publishing Company, which publishes the "New York World." I was married at Shelburne, Vermont, Oct. 14, 1905, to Frederica Vanderbilt Webb, daughter of William Seward and Eliza Osgood Webb. I belong to the Harvard, Automobile, and Strollers clubs.

WYNN MACK RAINBOLT

I was married, June 28, 1905, at Norfolk, Nebraska, to Margaret Rebecca Weills, daughter of John C. S. and Katharine Isbister Weills.

FRANCIS RAWLE, JR.

I left college on June 17, 1898, and enlisted in the First Troop Philadelphia City Cavalry, and went to Porto Rico during the Spanish-American War. I was in the Girard Trust Company for two years, after which I was with the insurance firm of Prevost and Herring. I stayed with them for about a year and a half, and then started in the insurance business for myself at 323 Walnut Street, where I now am. I have visited England, Scotland, Ireland, Wales, France, Germany, and Belgium. I am a member of the Harvard Club of Philadelphia, the Harvard Club of New York, the Harvard Union, the Markham Club, and the Merion Cricket Club.

John Madison Raynolds has not been heard from. His address is unknown.

FRANK NUTTING REED

Frank Nutting Reed has not been heard from.

MONTGOMERY REED

After graduation I entered the Harvard Law School and was in attendance there until April, 1903, doing some tutoring in college preparatory work at the same time. In April, 1903, I temporarily left the Law School to go abroad as tutor. On my return from abroad I continued the same work, and spent several months of the following winter in southern California. I returned to the Law School in May, 1904, and received the degree of LL.B. that June, and was admitted to the Bar in Massachusetts that summer. I then spent over a year doing title work. Just now I am tutoring again, but hope to return to the law permanently this summer.

RAYMOND LIONEL REED

When last heard from was at 74 Pond Street, Natick, Massachusetts.

FREDERICK WILLIAM REYNOLDS

For four years after graduation I was instructor in English in Harvard College. I received the degree of A.M. from Harvard in 1902. In September of that year I married Mabel Katharyn Wallace, daughter of Henry and Elen Harper Wallace. We have one son, Roger Wallace Reynolds, born May 2, 1905, in Salt Lake City. In September, 1904, I accepted the position of associate professor of English at the University of Utah, and I still hold that position.

ARTHUR NOBLE RICE

Shortly after taking my degree with the Class of 1900 I entered the employ of Hollowell, Donald & Co., a wool commission house in Boston. I remained there about six months, and then resigned my position. In the latter part of February, 1901, I went to Venezuela, South America, with the intention of becoming a sugar planter. I could not stand the excessively hot climate, however, and I returned to Boston in June of the same year. In September, 1901, I entered the Harvard Law School, remaining there during the entire three years' course, and receiving the degree of LL.B. in June, 1904. From June, 1904, until August, 1905, I was with the law firm of Matthews, Thompson and Spring of Boston. Since September, 1905, I have been associated in the practice of the law with H. B. Stanton, 1900, and B. D. Barker, 1901, under the firm name of Barker, Rice and Stanton.

ERNEST JAMES RICE

Ernest James Rice died July 8, 1897, of sunstroke. He was the son of George Edmund and Mary Submit Crocker Rice, and was born at Malcom, Iowa, Sept. 22, 1876. He was prepared for college at the High School, Malden, Massachusetts.

ALBIN LEAL RICHARDS

After graduation I attended the Harvard Law School. I received the degree of A.M. in 1901, and was appointed assistant in government at Harvard Dec. 9, 1901, and May 12, 1902, and instructor in international law in Harvard College Nov. 10, 1902. I received the degree of LL.B. in 1903, and entered the office of Solomon Lincoln of Boston in October, 1903. April 1, 1904, I became associated with the firm of Hamilton and Eaton, and I am now practising law with them at 31 Milk Street, Boston, Massachusetts. On March 5, 1906, I was married to Angeline Edith Andrews, daughter of Robert R. and Mary Leseur Andrews. I am a member of the Bar Association of the City of Boston and of the Bar Association of the County of Middlesex.

I was graduated at the Harvard Law School in 1903, and I am now practising law in New York City.

SHIRLEY ELMER ROBERTS

After leaving college I travelled for several months in the western part of the United States. I then went to Arizona and spent several months among the Apache Indians, studying their dialect, traditions, and mode of life. In 1902 I came to the Philippine Islands, and have been connected with the educational department ever since. During my stay here I have spent several months travelling in China and Japan. At the present time I am teaching in the High School of Laguna Province.

AVERY ROBINSON

Avery Robinson has not been heard from.

HERBERT GLOVER ROBINSON

Since leaving college I have done little of any special interest. I have been connected with the shoe business continuously, but in many capacities — stock boy, salesman, factory hand, foreman, and finally in my present position, which has no name. I have lived in several towns and travelled in many states, but only to remain firmly convinced that I like Boston best of all. Unfortunately for the ladies, not one of them has married me, nor likewise have any distinguished or learned societies seen fit to adopt me. I once thought of going to South Africa to engage in the shoe business, which is the nearest I have come to visiting any foreign country. A man who edits or publishes some kind of a sheet in the North End of Boston once asked me to write my impressions of the Italians down there — I did, but he did n't print them. I believe the above to be an accurate and rather full account of myself since leaving college. However, if any one should care to visit me in Auburn, New York, where I now am, care of Dunn & McCarthy, I should be most happy to go into more trifling details.

NELSON ROBINSON, JR.

Nelson Robinson, Jr., died May 9, 1899, at Cambridge. He was the son of Nelson and Eliza Sevey Robinson, and was born at Brooklyn, New York, Nov. 14, 1878. He prepared for college at King's School, Stamford, Connecticut.

ALFRED MAYER ROCK

I was a field assistant in the United States Geological Survey in the San Juan Mining District Colorado during the summer of 1900. In October I returned to Harvard and entered the Graduate School, but only stayed until January, 1901, when I left to become manager of a coffee plantation, Frica Setzmaý, Alta Vera, Paz Republic of Guatemala, Central America. In September, 1902, I was again a field assistant for the United States Geological Survey, this time in Bisbee, Arizona. I then came back to the Harvard Graduate School, and took my degree of A.M. in geology in June, 1903. I was a field assistant in the United States Geological Survey at Cripple Creek and Victor, Colorado, and Park City, Utah, from July, 1903, to January, 1904. In February, 1904, I was a mining engineer for the Federal Lead Company; in April I was promoted to the superintendency of the Diamond Drill Prospecting, and again in October, 1905, to the New York office of the American Smelters Securities Company, 71 Broadway, and detailed to work in Mexico as assistant to J. E. Spurr, class of 1893, Harvard, to make detailed geological examination and direct prospecting in the American Securities Company's mines in Mexico. I have visited so far Monterey, Nuevo Leon, Matehuala, San Luis Potosí, and Guanajuato, Gto., Jimenez, and Chihuahua. I have not been east of the Mississippi River since June, 1903, but expect — God and the company being willing — to attend the sexennial celebration of our Class. I am a member of the American Institute of Mining Engineers and of the National Geographical Society.

ALBERT JOHN ROCKWELL

No information except the address has been received.

SAMUEL FORBES ROCKWELL

I took the S.B. degree in 1901, and then learned the machinist's trade. Now I am one of the superintendents at the Davis and Furber Machine Company, North Andover, Massachusetts.

GEORGE FREDERICK ROOT

On leaving Cambridge I went to Chicago, where I started in the stock and bond business, but, having had since childhood a love for the land and out-of-doors, I came to Concord, Massachusetts, in 1901, and have gone into raising Homer squabs for the market. I find that the work of farming is even more enjoyable than I had any idea of, and I am gradually building up an out-of-door life work that is most absorbing.

HENRY LEWIS ROTHENBERG

After taking my LL.B. degree at Harvard in 1902 I remained in the law business in Boston until July, 1905, and while there became a member of the Boston Club. Then I left Boston for San Francisco, where I intend to remain practising law.

LORNE ELDON ROWLEY

My son, Lorne, is now in southern British Columbia. I forwarded the blank sent him here, but he may not have received it. Perhaps I can give you some data that you can use in case his own report does not reach you in time.

After his graduation at Harvard in 1900 he accepted the position of principal of the Superior School at Dorchester, New Brunswick, and taught there one year. During that year he wrote a thesis on geometry, and received his M.A. degree in course at Mount Allison. In September, 1901, he took up mining and civil engineering at McGill, entering as a third year student. In April, 1903, he graduated in science, with honors in laboratory work, receiving his B.Sc. degree. During the summer of that year he filled the position of instructor in the McGill Summer School of Science. After fulfilling his appointment there he engaged as civil engineer with the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and remained with them till last October, when he entered the service of the British Columbia Copper Company as mining engineer. He has been successful in every department of work in which he has been engaged. He is still unmarried. His present address is Mother Lode Mine, Greenwood, British Columbia.

ALFRED ROWLEY.

Sunday School, under the Rev. Bradford Leavitt, First Unitarian Church, San Francisco. I was called to the First Unitarian Church, Alameda, California, March 28, 1904, where I am still serving. I was married, April 2, 1905, at Los Angeles, California, to Stella Knight, daughter of William Henry and Ella Joanna Knight.

NORMAN McLEOD RULAND

In the winter of 1900-1901 I worked for six months as an apprentice in Cramp's Shipyard, Philadelphia. I studied the next two years at the School of Mines, Columbia University, — a course in Marine Engineering. I am now in the designing department of the American Bridge Company, 42 Broadway, New York. I am a member of the New York Harvard Club.

RALPH ROLLINS RUMMERY

I received an appointment in the United States Engineer Corps in 1898. In 1899 I went into the employ of the Bangor and Aroostook Railroad, and worked on the Van Buren Branch of this railroad. When I had finished this work I spent five months in the maintenance department of the Boston and Maine Railroad, and then went to Porto Rico for a year as engineer of construction on the Aguirre Railroad. In 1901 I went to Cuba as superintendent of the Soledad Railroad. Entering the employ of the Pennsylvania Railroad in August, 1902, at Philadelphia, I was transferred to New York to the tunnel work in October, 1904, where I am now at work. I am a member of the Sons of the American Revolution, of the Republican Club, of the New York Harvard Club, and of the Beaux Creek Country Club.

CLIVE RUNNELS

I am secretary and treasurer of Sanford-Day Iron Works, working like a dog from 6.30 A.M. to 6 P.M. to make an honest dollar. I am buyer, seller, draftsman, financier, travelling salesman, shop superintendent, secretary and treasurer, car-builder at times, auditor, cashier, bill clerk, shipping clerk, metallurgist, sometimes stenographer, advertising manager, holding also a few other offices, being quite versatile. Fine Arts 4 helps wonderfully in designing iron columns, 6"-0,  $\frac{3}{4}$ " metal, 14' long. History 1 and 13 are a great benefit in locating Galeton, Pennsylvania. By the aid of the latter I can pick out the state of North Carolina, which "has no book stores in it." Engineering 1 a was perfect training in the proper method to shovel coal under a boiler. Chemistry I tells me that manganese and sulphur in pig iron are probably found in the Mn S. State. German C, French C, and Spanish I will decipher any letters received from the mountaineers of eastern Tennessee. Economics I does n't do my bank account a bit of good. Mathematics IV relieves me wonderfully when figuring the weight of a piece of cast iron 12" square by 1" thick or in keeping track of the days of the month. English 22 (I believe this is the number). If it was n't for it I simply could n't write letters about iron Gates that would be "distinctly worth while." Metallurgy I. Oh! my dear old friend, how could I do without you? Physics C. Oh, venerable Shade of the Past! May you cast no shadows on my future! Philosophy 1 a. At last my joy and my refuge, my consolation in this weary life, my stronghold when pursued and nearly overtaken, my cup of ice water in the desert of life. With the aid of Palmer and Münsterberg I can Grin and Bear it. I was married, March 24, 1904, in Knoxville, Tennessee, to Margaret Woodruff, daughter of William Wallace Woodruff. We have one child, Edward Jackson Sanford, born March 23, 1906.

ERNEST EDWARD SARGEANT

I graduated from the Harvard Law School in 1903, and in the fall of that year went to New York City. I was first with the Legal Aid Society, but in December I entered the legal department of the Travellers Insurance Company, New York City. I remained in that office until the summer of 1905. I spent most of that summer travelling in this country, principally through the western states, and then returned to Spokane, Washington, with the purpose of locating there permanently and practising law. I am now sharing an office with an older attorney at 304-305 Fernwell Building, Spokane, and making my early efforts to establish a law practice of my own.

JOSHUA MONTGOMERY SEARS

Joshua Montgomery Sears has not been heard from. He is practising law in Boston.

MURRAY SEASONGOOD

I received the degree of A.M. at Harvard in 1901 and the degree of LL.B. at the Harvard Law School in 1903. I had intended practising law in New York City in the office of Messrs. Hornblower, Byrne, Miller, & Potter, but owing to my father's illness I returned to Cincinnati, and started practice in November, 1903, in the office of Messrs. Paxton and Warrington, United Bank Building, Cincinnati, Ohio. I was elected secretary of the Harvard Law School class of 1903, and issued my first report in 1905. I was admitted to the Bar in December, 1903, and have been practising with the above firm and also for myself since at above address. I have written legal articles in the "Green Bag" and the "Ohio Weekly Law Bulletin." I was treasurer of the Cincinnati Harvard Club from 1904 to 1905. I was appointed by presiding judge of Common Pleas Court in April, 1905, one of a committee of three to prefer disbarment charges against a fellow practitioner. I was also appointed on a committee consisting of two Harvard, two Yale, and two Princeton men to organize a university club in Cincinnati, and I am a member of the board of governors of the club.

HENRY LATIMER SEAVER

I was assistant in English at Harvard from 1900 to 1901, and I have been instructor in English at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology since September, 1901. I was instructor in English at the Chautauqua Summer School, Chautauqua, New York, during 1902 and 1903. I travelled in the summer of 1904 in France and England. I am a member of the Boston Latin School Association and of the Economic Club of Boston.

WILLIAM NATHANAEL SEAVER

After leaving college I spent a year looking for work. On July 1, 1901, I became personal secretary to R. R. Bowker, proprietor of the "Publishers' Weekly, Library Journal," of New York, and I am still (February, 1906) employed in that position, although I hope within 1907 to find other work nearer Boston. Besides performing the purely personal duties of my present position I have compiled Part III of Bowker's bibliography of "State Publications," and I am now engaged in compiling Part IV, which will complete the work. I have also at odd seasons done some newsgathering and editing for the "Publishers' Weekly."

HENRY MEYER SHARTENBERG

I left college, on leave of absence, February, 1900, and became European representative for several Attleboro jewelry factories, and exhibited their lines at the Paris Exposition of 1900. Besides France, I visited on this trip England, Germany, Austria, Hungary, Italy, coast of Spain, northern coast of Africa, and the Azores Islands. Shortly after my return I became connected with the firm of Shartenberg and Robinson, with which firm I have since remained, at present assisting in the buying and management of this concern, which is a department store. I was married, Jan. 17, 1905, to Hedwig Weisl Lederer, daughter of Sigmund and Bertha (Valmer) Lederer. I spent the following five weeks cruising in the West Indies. I visited the islands of Bermuda, Porto Rico, Jamaica, Cuba, and Nassau.

THOMAS MOTT SHAW

Since leaving college I have studied architecture in Paris at the Ecole Nationale des Beaux Arts. I received the "diplôme" of the French Government in June, 1905. I returned to Boston the following August, and since then I have been working in the office of Guy Lowell. I was married, Feb. 20, 1905, in Paris, France, to Caroline Quinan, daughter of William Russell and Caroline De Witt Quinan.

WINFIELD LOWRY SHAW

In 1900 I entered the employ of the Shaw-Godding Shoe Company. I was with this company until 1903, when it went out of business. I was with Rice and Hutchins, Closson Factory, South Braintree, in 1904, and I have been with W. H. McElwain Company, Shoe Manufacturers, Boston, since February, 1904. I was married, Sept. 5, 1905, at Cumberland Mills, Maine, to Lois Warren, daughter of John E. and Harriet E. (Brown) Warren.

LOUIS BERRY SHAY

After graduating in June, 1900, I remained at the Harvard Summer School to take a course in physical culture. During the time that I was not engaged in my gymnasium work I acted as guide for the Cuban teachers who were at Cambridge during the summer of 1900. From September, 1900, to June, 1901, I taught in the Franklin School at Walnut Hills, Cincinnati, Ohio, where I was instructor in physical culture, English, and history. During the summer and fall of 1901 I was at the Pan-American Exposition at Buffalo, New York, where I was associated with George C. Griffith, a Harvard man of the class of 1901, in editing the "Pan-American Daily." In the spring of 1902 I taught in the State Normal School at Brockport, New York, where I was instructor in physical culture and principal of the academic department. In September, 1902, I entered the Albany Law School, Union University, at Albany, New York. I was elected president of the junior class. During the session of the New York Legislature of 1903 I was clerk of the Senate Committee on Internal Affairs. I was graduated in June, 1904, from the Albany Law School with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. In March, 1904, I was admitted to the practice of law in the state of New York. In the fall of 1904 I was a clerk in the law office of Satterlee, Bissell, Taylor and French, Rochester, New York. On January 3, 1905, I opened an office for the practice of law in Brockport, New York, where I am now located. I am a member of the Masonic Fraternity.

AUGUSTUS HUNT SHEARER

After graduation I spent three years more at Harvard, in the Graduate School, taking the degree of A.M. in 1901 and of Ph.D. in 1903. I travelled in the West till February, 1904, and was assistant at Harvard the rest of that year. I have been teaching history at Trinity College, Hartford, Connecticut, since then. I am neither married nor engaged, nor have I published nor held office. I am a member of the American Historical Association, the Connecticut Historical Society, the Pennsylvania History Club, the University Club of Hartford, and the Connecticut Valley Harvard Club.

KENNETH SHERBURNE

After receiving the degree of S.B. in mechanical engineering in 1903 I went to work for the General Electric Company in Schenectady, New York, and stayed with them until June, 1905, being transferred to the Lynn works in October, 1904. I then went to the B. F. Sturtevant Company in Hyde Park, Massachusetts, where I am now employed. I am a junior member of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, and I am a member of the Puritan and Automobile clubs in Boston.

TYRRELL BRADBURY SHERTZER

After graduating from the Scientific School I obtained a position with the Baltimore Bridge Company in their drafting room. In December, 1900, I came to New York to join the engineering corps of the Rapid Transit Railroad Commission, by whom I have been employed ever since. From December, 1900, until September, 1901, I was in the main office, drafting, from September, 1901, till May, 1902, I was engaged in making a preliminary survey for the extension of the Rapid Transit Railroad to Brooklyn. From May, 1902, until the present time I have been on the deep tunnel section of the road under Washington Heights, which is the northern end of the west side of Manhattan Island. I am at present in charge of the field office and work of this tunnel. I am an associate member of the American Society of Civil Engineers, a member of The Municipal Engineers of the City of New York, a member of The National Geographic Society.

FRANK HERBERT SIMONDS

I was in the University Settlement, New York, from 1900 to 1901. For the next four years I was in the employ of the "New York Tribune." I am now on the "Evening Post," as legislative correspondent in Albany during the session, and in New York during the rest of the year. My correspondence is printed over the signature "F. H. S." On

FRANK CHANNING SMITH, JR.

After graduating from college in 1900 I finished the law course in the Harvard Law School, the first year of which I had completed in my senior year in college. I received the degree of LL.B. from the Harvard Law School with the class of 1902. I immediately entered the law office and the firm of Blackmer and Vaughan of Worcester, Massachusetts, on June 23, 1902. On May 1, 1905, the firm name was changed to Blackmer, Vaughan and Smith, and as the junior member of this firm my time is to-day wholly occupied. I was married on Oct. 5, 1904, to Amy Jeannette Williams, daughter of Eugene A. and Fannie J. Williams. I belong to no clubs other than the Tatnuck Country Club of Worcester, Massachusetts.

FREDERIC ESTABROOK SMITH, JR.

I was married, Aug. 15, 1905, at Pawtucket, Rhode Island, to Hope Sheldon Fisk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Francis Fisk.

FREDERICK MILLER SMITH

After leaving college in 1899 I spent a year in the universities abroad — at Jena, Berlin, and Oxford — studying a little, and trying to live a good deal. In December, 1900, I joined the editorial staff of the "Woman's Home Companion," which was then edited in Springfield, Ohio. The offices were moved to New York City the following year. I was with the "Companion" as literary and dramatic editor till the spring of 1905. During that time I also contributed serials to "The Ladies' Home Journal" (Christine), and the "Woman's Home Companion" (Uncle Peleg's Queer Will); short stories and verse to the above two magazines, to the "Red Book," "Ainslee's," "The Metropolitan," "Everybody's"; and essays to "The Critic," "Poet-Lore," and the "Independent." In the spring of 1905 I gave up office work on account of my health, and for six months lived in Meriden, New Hampshire, at the game preserve Corbin Park, working with Mr. Ernest Harold Baynes the naturalist, and assisting him in his experiments on the American bison. At present (February, 1906) I am in residence at the University of Indiana, writing for my own amusement and the small pecuniary return that comes to the ordinary literary hack. I shall probably be somewhere else when this is published. My ambition is to be a section boss on a railroad. I use Pear's soap and carry a Waterbury watch. My favorite novel is an unpublished one of my own. If you read the "Independent" of Sept. 15, 1904, you will find my views on marriage. I am still a bachelor.

HAROLD WELLINGTON SMITH

I left college at the end of my freshman year (1897) and entered Harvard Medical School, getting my medical degree in 1901. I then entered the Massachusetts General Hospital as house officer, and finished my service there in April, 1903. I was in private practice in Boston for about one year, and entered the Medical Corps of U. S. Navy in September, 1904. I am at present stationed in the Philippines.

HOMER BRANDEL SMITH

I entered the Harvard Medical School at the end of junior year in college and received the degree of M.D. in 1903. In the summer of 1902 I travelled through France, Germany, and Austria. In the fall of 1902 I was appointed surgical house officer at the Boston City Hospital, where I served two years. On Jan. 1, 1905, I opened an office at 17 Marlborough Street, Boston, but later moved to my present address, 295 Beacon Street. In the fall of 1905 I was assistant to Dr. Edward H. Nichols in the surgical care of the Harvard Football squad, and in collaboration with him published in the "Boston Medical and Surgical Journal" of Jan. 13, 1906, an article, "The Physical Aspect of American Football." This article was based upon our clinical experience in the care of the squad for the season of 1905. I am at present a volunteer assistant surgeon on the staff of the Boston Children's Hospital. I am a member of the following societies: the American Medical Association, the Massachusetts Medical Society, the Æsculapian Club of Boston, of which I am secretary and treasurer, the Boylston Medical Society, and the Boston City Hospital Alumni Association.

HOMER HASKELL SMITH

Homer Haskell Smith has not been heard from.

LOUIS GRAHAM OWEN SMITH

The first year after graduation I spent in travel through the South and West. I came to New York from Buffalo in January, 1902, and took up newspaper work on the "Evening Sun," remaining on its staff until April, 1904, as news reporter, assistant city editor, real estate editor, and financial writer. From April, 1904, to November, 1905, I acted as press representative of the various Westinghouse companies of the United States and Canada, and spent eight months at St. Louis in charge of Westinghouse publicity at the Louisiana Purchase Exposition, returning to New York in January, 1905. In January, 1906, I took up general advertising and publishing work, with an office in the Flatiron Building, New York. I am a member of the Harvard and City clubs, of the New York Electrical Society, the New York Civil Service Reform League, and Company K, Seventh Regiment, all of New York.

SYDNEY BRUCE SNOW

From graduation until the fall of 1903 I worked on the staff of the "Boston Transcript." I entered the Harvard Divinity School in October, 1903, from which I shall be graduated this June, 1906. I shall then enter the Unitarian ministry. Since the last report I have had two boys born, William Lowell Snow, Jan. 25, 1903, at Boston, and Donald Kennedy Snow, Nov. 7, 1904, at Cambridge.

STACY BAXTER SOUTHWORTH

In September, 1900, I accepted a position in the Quincy High School in the department of history. This position I held until October, 1902, when I entered the Harvard Law School to pursue some special work. I remained in the Law School a year, and then accepted a position as sub-master of the Charles Sumner School, Boston, which position I now hold. I now hold membership in the Massachusetts School-Masters' Club, the Boston Sub-Masters' Club, and the West Roxbury Unitarian Debating Club. I am also one of the board of directors of the Young People's Religious Union. My residence is in Highland, West Roxbury, and I have actively identified myself with the work of the West Roxbury Citizens' Improvement Association.

ELIOT SPALDING

HORACE BAXTER STANTON

At the time of the publication of the last report I was in my second year at the Harvard Law School, and I was graduated in due course in 1903. My son was born shortly before the Class Triennial. On graduation I began the practice of law in Boston, with the firm of Peabody & Arnold, and have since practised uninterruptedly, for two years in that office, and for the last six months on my own account. I am now associated with Arthur Rice and B. D. Barker, 1901. So far I have kept any learning or knowledge which I may possess so successfully concealed that no editor or learned society has come to snatch me from my seclusion. By force of habit the Law School conferred upon me the inconsistent degree of Bachelor of Laws, although I had been a bigamist of law and a duly wedded wife for nearly a year. The offices I hold are such that the profit is of the kind to be hoped for, the honor shines like a candle under a bushel, and the trust is in everybody else, to my regret. I have confined my foreign travels solely to the land of Nod.

HOMER WORTHINGTON STARR

I was English master in the Sewanee Grammar School, Sewanee, Tennessee, from 1900 to 1902. In 1902 I was

In 1902 I was employed by the Massachusetts Electric Companies as draftsman on their power station and transmission line work. At present I am with John H. Bickford, consulting engineer, Boston. I was married in October, 1902, to Emily Frances Dodge, daughter of James Emery and Anna Lucretia Dodge of New Bedford. We have two children, Arthur Sturgis, Jr., born Dec. 7, 1904, and Anna Dodge Sturgis, born Feb. 28, 1906.

MARK FORREST SULLIVAN

I was graduated at the Harvard Law School in 1903 and since then have been practising law.

CHESTER ODIORNE SWAIN

From 1900 to 1902 I studied in the Harvard Graduate School, specializing in history and economics, and receiving the degree of A.M. in June, 1902. During 1902 and 1904 I attended the Harvard Law School, taking the degree LL.B. in June, 1904. On June 20, 1904, I entered the law office of Bissell, Carey and Cooke, 558 Ellicott Square, Buffalo, New York, the foremost law firm of this city, and I have continued there since that date. I was admitted to practice at the New York Bar in January, 1905. My residence is at the University Club of Buffalo.

WILLIAM BRADEN SWINFORD

During the first year after I graduated from college I was principal of the North Side Public School in Watseka, Illinois. In July, 1901, I came to Oklahoma and took part in the opening up of the Comanche reservation, but drew a blank. The following August I entered into a partnership with Mr. F. L. Williams, with whom I engaged in the farm loan and abstract of title business at Guthrie, Oklahoma, until September, 1904. On Jan. 1, 1905, I was made vice-president and director of the bank of Ripley at Ripley, Oklahoma, which position I held until January last. I am at present the assistant cashier of the First National Bank of Stillwater and a director of the Bank of Ripley. I am a member of the Stillwater Athletic Club.

theology under the direction of the Rev. C. E. Plumb, M.A., chaplain of Magdalene College, and of the reverend, the Warden of Keble College. I attended the lectures of the Rev. Dr. Bright, Regius Professor of Church History, of the Rev. Dr. Moberly, Regius Professor of Pastoral Theology, of the Rev. Dr. Fareday, Lady Margaret Professor, and of the Rev. Dr. Driver, Regius Professor of Hebrew. The Christmas vacation I spent in Berlin, where I had in a previous year resided, in the family of Prof. Anton Weber, court painter; and during the Easter holidays I travelled in Switzerland and in Italy with the Rev. C. E. Plumb of Oxford. In the following summer I visited Holland, Germany, and Paris with Walter Moberly of New College, Oxford and also Brittany, various parts of England and Scotland. -On my return to America, in the autumn of 1901, I matriculated at the Episcopal Theological School in Cambridge, spending my long vacations of that and of the following years at my summer home in Cornish, New Hampshire. I was graduated from this school in June, 1904, when I received the degree of S.T.B., and was ordained to the diaconate by the Bishop of Massachusetts. At this time I accepted a call to be the assistant minister of Trinity Parish in Hartford, Connecticut. I was ordained to the priesthood by Bishop Lawrence in May, 1905. I am a member of the Hartford Golf Club and of the Connecticut Valley Harvard Club.

GEORGE ALEXANDER TOWNS

I am teaching in Atlanta University in Georgia, where I have been continuously since I left college. Little has happened to me beyond the ordinary experiences of a teacher. I married, Sept. 17, 1902, in Atlanta, Georgia, Nellie H. McNair, daughter of Felix and Harriet McNair. We have had two children, both of whom have died. An infant son was born Sept. 11, 1903, and died Sept. 12, 1903, and a daughter, Helen Dorothy Towns, was born Dec. 6, 1904, and died July 10, 1905. I have joined two organizations, the Niagara Movement, a national body, and the Georgia

Equal Rights Convention, a state organization whose common purpose is to maintain for the negro the civil and political rights he is rapidly losing in the South.

ALFRED MARSTON TOZZER

I was appointed custodian of the Fine Arts department at the Boston Public Library Aug. 1, 1904. My marriage was recorded in the first report. We have a daughter, Edith Olive Washburn, born Aug. 26, 1905, at Raynham, Massachusetts.

ASA DUPUY WATKINS

I spent only one year at Harvard, so am scarcely a Harvard man, although I entered the senior class and took the Harvard A.B. degree in 1900. I entered the Union Theological Seminary, Richmond, Virginia, in September, 1900, and received the degree of B.D. from that institution in May, 1903. I was ordained to the ministry and entered the home mission work of the Southern Presbyterian Church in the mountains of West Virginia in July, 1903, making the little lumber town Cass, West Virginia, my headquarters, and working amongst the lumbermen in their camps, amongst the "mountain whites" in their huts, and amongst surrounding grazers on their farms. I remained in this work until September, 1905, when I removed to Bristol, Tennessee, to take charge of the Windsor Avenue Presbyterian Church.

JAMES OTIS WATSON

Leaving college in my freshman year I went to Colorado Springs for three years of out-of-door life, including much golf, horseback riding, and hunting. Returning to West Virginia in 1900 I accepted a position as assistant superintendent at one of the coal mines in the Fairmont district.

Soon thereafter the entire district was consolidated and, due largely to influence, I found myself assistant to the president. The work involved was intensely interesting, but all absorbing, and in the fall of 1903 I gave it up to spend my winters with my little family on a small ranch thirty-five miles from Colorado Springs, where the free out-of-door life is beyond compare. My summers are given to the Alleghenies at tennis, camping, fishing, and hunting. Between times are spent in search of funds to make the described life possible. I was married, June 4, 1902, to Ella Brandon Bartlett. We have two daughters, Elinor Bartlett Watson, born May 20, 1903, and Mary Watson, born March 10, 1905.

RALPH HOPKINS WATSON

I am a metallurgist in the Homestead Steel Works, Carnegie Steel Company, Munhall, Pennsylvania.

IRA GILBERT WEBSTER

Ira Gilbert Webster has not been heard from.

HAMILTON WILSON WELCH

Hamilton Wilson Welch has not been heard from.

CHARLES FREDERIC WELLINGTON

I have been secretary to the principal of the B. M. C. Durfee High School, Fall River, Massachusetts, since September, 1901. During the fall of 1901 I taught school, but in the spring I was timekeeper on the Providence and Fall River Street Railway during its construction. Since August, 1900, I have also been the Swansea correspondent for the "Fall River Evening News" and the "Providence Evening News." Besides I have acted occasionally as proof-reader and reporter on the city staff of the "News." I have been correspondent from Swansea for the "Associated Press" since August, 1905. During 1904 and 1905 I was secretary of the committee to investigate the schools of Swansea.

I have published several articles for the "Providence Sunday Journal," the "Philadelphia North American," the "New Bedford Standard," the "Newport News," and the "Lynn Item," among which are an interview with Edward Kelton of Guatemala, a character sketch of Harvey R. Monroe, and accounts of Philander G. Wilbur, a veteran milkman, of a fox-hunt of the Wannamoisett Fox Hunting Club, and of the famous Bowers Mansion of Somerset. I am a member of King Philip Lodge A. F. and A. M. of Fall River, of the executive committee of the Fall River Harvard Club, and of the Wannamoisett Fox Hunting Club.

STANWOOD GRAY WELLINGTON

I entered the Harvard Law School in the fall of 1900 and was graduated in June, 1904, receiving the degree of LL.B. Illness during the winter of 1902-1903 compelled me to drop back a year. I passed the Massachusetts Bar Examinations in July, 1904, and in that month entered the office of Hale and Grinnell, 60 State Street, Boston, Massachusetts. At present I am practising law on my own account at the above address, and also doing work for the office in which I am located. I spent the summer of 1902 abroad, travelling in England, Germany, Switzerland, and France, and in September, 1905, made a trip to California. I was married, April 26, 1906, at Santa Barbara, California, to Alice Hanlin Baker, daughter of Elbert L. Baker.

JAMES OGDEN WELLS

I have been continuously with Cooper, Wells and Company in the hosiery business, first spending four years in the different departments learning the business, and now acting as assistant superintendent. I expect to remain in the manufacturing business indefinitely.

EDWARD CORYDON WHEELER, JR.

After leaving college I went into the manufacturing business, where I remained one year. I then accepted a position with N. W. Harris and Company, bankers, Equitable Building, Boston. After three years office experience I represented the house in Connecticut and western Massachusetts. In the fall of 1904 I began to represent the house in Maine, and have continued to do so up to the present time. I am a member of the Wollaston Golf Club and the Portland, Maine, Golf Club.

ERNEST EDWARD WHEELER

I was graduated from the Columbia Law School in 1903. I spent the summer of 1902 in Europe and the summer of 1903 in California. I am a lawyer, practising at 31 Nassau Street, New York, with Bowers and Sands.

CALEB VAN HUSAN WHITBECK

Caleb Van Husan Whitbeck has not been heard from.

JAMES PLATT WHITE

James Platt White has not been heard from.

ROBERT RUDD WHITING

I left college at the end of my freshman year and entered Princeton as a special. In the course of two years there I was an editor and managing editor of "The Tiger," an editor of the "Bric-a-Brac" (the Princeton annual), and a member of the Triangle Club (Princeton's dramatic club). In the fall of 1899 I went to work for "The New York Sun," and continued a member of the staff until the spring of 1904. Since then I have been living in Princeton, where I still do a little writing and drawing. My only book is a collection of baseball yarns that first appeared in "The Sun," published by J. S. Ogilvie, and entitled, I think, "The Fat ex-Mascot." As to foreign countries, I have been abroad ten times, but almost always to Switzerland and Germany, stopping in Paris on my way back only long enough to get the German out of my ears. I was married in Stamford, Connecticut, Sept. 3, 1902, to Agnes Campbell Kempster, daughter of Walter and Miriam Baynes Kempster. We have two children, Robert Rudd Whiting, Jr., born May 21, 1903, and Francis Whiting, born June 29, 1904. The only clubs to which I belong are the Princeton Club of New York and the Nassau Club of Princeton.

PARKER WHITNEY

For the last four years I have been manager of the Spring Valley Ranch, Rocklin, Placer County, California. The property comprises about thirty thousand acres in the Sacramento Valley and produces stock, sheep, wool, mutton, grain, hay, raisins, and oranges. I am deputy sheriff of Placer County. I was married, Jan. 19, 1903, in San Francisco, to Daisy Parrott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Baldwin Parrott. We have two sons, Louis Parker Whitney, born Nov. 10, 1904, and Vincent Whitney, born Jan. 23, 1906. I am a member of the Pacific Union Club of San Francisco and the Burlingame Country Club of Burlingame, California.

TRAVIS HARVARD WHITNEY

My office and permanent address is 15 William Street, New York City, where I have a law office with Mrs. Whitney as a partner, under the firm name of Rosalie Loew and Travis H. Whitney. I am assistant secretary of the Citizens Union, a political organization, and am its legislative agent in Albany, where I spend most of my time. One child, Travis H. Whitney, Jr., was born Jan. 29, 1905.

ROSS KITTREDGE WHITON

After graduating from college I entered the Harvard Medical School in the fall of 1900, from which I was graduated in 1904 with the degree of M.D. On the first of the following September I was married to Ada Louise Woods, daughter of Charles Edwin and Abbie Frances White Woods.

I began immediately to practise medicine in Quincy. I belong to the Massachusetts Medical Society, Norfolk South District. At the present time I am a member of the Board of Health of Quincy.

GEORGE ALBIN WHITEMORE

From 1903 to 1905 I was teacher of mathematics at the Foster School, Cornwall, Connecticut. In the summer of 1905 I was a student in the Harvard Engineering Camp, Squam Lake, New Hampshire. I am now an instructor in mathematics at Pennsylvania State College, State College, Pennsylvania.

EDWARD JAMES WHITTIER

I was an assistant in the Harvard Engineering Laboratory from September, 1901, to February, 1902. I then was employed by the American McKenna Process Company of Joliet, Illinois, until June, when I was badly injured by falling into the bevel gears, and was laid up until October. After that I was engineer in charge of the plant of the same company at Tremley Point, New Jersey. I was in charge of the constructive work on docks and on mill and general superintendence. In July and August I inspected rail for this company and for the Erie Railroad. I am now acting in the capacity of assistant purchasing agent, in charge of the supply division of the purchasing department for the American Agricultural Chemical Company. I was married, May 15, 1905, in Elizabeth, New Jersey, to Bessie Babcock Bickwell, daughter of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Bickwell. We have a daughter, Dorothea Whittier, born Feb. 24, 1906, at Roselle, New Jersey.

July 1, 1902. I sailed on July 2, 1902, from Boston, and travelled over England and the Continent, returning to Boston about Sept. 18, 1902. In November of that year I started in the actual practice of law in Boston, and have been so engaged ever since.

RUSSELL BENJAMIN WIGGIN

Russell Benjamin Wiggin has not been heard from.

FREDERICK WILCOCK

For six months, beginning September, 1900, I acted as clerk with an exporter of machinery. In March, 1901, I entered the employ of the Rapid Transit Railroad Commission of New York. I am still with them as assistant engineer. I am an associate in the American Society of Civil Engineers.

FREDERICK MASON WILDER

I entered the Harvard Graduate School in 1902, taking the degree of Master of Science in 1903. Taught the following year in the Central High School, Cleveland, Ohio. In the fall of 1904 I came to Chicago, accepting a position as teacher of chemistry and physiography in the Francis W. Parker School, 550 Webster Avenue. My marriage was noted in the last report. We have a daughter, Anna Gould Wilder, born April 14, 1905, in Chicago, Illinois.

GEORGE HARRIS WILDER

In July, 1900, after graduating from college, I accepted a junior clerical position with the banking firm of Baring, Magoun and Company in New York, with whom I remained for over five years. On Oct. 24, 1900, I was married in Portsmouth, New Hampshire, to Sadie E. Eldredge, and after a short wedding trip we returned to New York and took up our residence in an apartment on 87th Street and Central Park West, where we lived until May, 1902. I then moved to Madison, New York, where my father had built us a house. I was still associated with Messrs. Baring, Magoun and Company in business, having charge of securities and assisting the manager of the stock and bond department, when in June, 1905, my father bought me a seat on the New York Stock Exchange. After a month's vacation at Chatham, Massachusetts, I actively took up the duties of what is known as a "$2.00 Floor Broker," executing business for other firms, at which I continued until Jan. 1, 1906. I then formed the Stock Exchange firm of Carter, Wilder and Company, of which house I am now the board member to succeed to the business of Messrs. Tilghman, Rowland, and Company, an old established firm who were discontinuing business. Since graduation I have written no articles of importance and I have not had time to travel. I married Sadie Evelyn Eldredge, daughter of H. Fisher and Addie E. Eldredge. We have a daughter, Evelyn Eldredge Wilder, born June 12, 1902. I am at present a member of the Morris County Golf Club, Harvard Club, and the Madison Golf Club.

ABRAM JULIUS WILE

I am still teaching in Rochester, New York. I have two daughters, born since the last report, Dorothy May Wile, born May 18, 1902, and Sara Frances Wile, born May 23, 1905, both at Rochester, New York.

NORMAN RAND WILLARD

Since graduation I have been actively engaged as a civil engineer. My first employment was with the town of Andover, in the department of public works. I was there a year. Then I went on the sewer department of the town of Wakefield. In November, 1901, I went to Tampa, Florida, where I was engaged for six months as an engineer under Cushing and Weir, contractors for the Tampa, Port Tampa, boulevard. Returning from Tampa I went to work as head draftsman for the Automatic Weighing Machine Company, corner of Green and Bay streets, Jersey City, New Jersey. This position I held about twenty months.

In August, 1904, I was employed as engineer and superintendent of construction by the Ambursen Hydraulic Construction Company, 176 Federal Street, Boston, Massachusetts, by which firm I am still employed. Since being engaged by them I have superintended the building of a reinforced concrete dam at Woonsocket, Rhode Island, was engineer for the reconstruction of the Chambly Dam at Chambly, Quebec, and am now resident engineer and superintendent of the construction of a contract with the Chicago and Joliet Electric Railroad. This contract, amounting to about $50,000, comprises the building of two reinforced concrete dams, designed as combined dams and bridges, but with the bridge through the dam rather than over it, and for two reinforced concrete bridges. I have not as yet joined any societies nor have I written any books or papers of consequence. I was married in Lexington, Massachusetts, Aug. 30, 1903, to Annette Phoebe Frizelle, daughter of James H. and Lucretia (Fahnestock) Frizelle.
